General Charged in Assault on Civilians

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — The Army announced today that charges have been preferred against Brig. Gen. John W. Donaldson, accusing him of murder and assault involving eight Vietnamese civilians.

Donaldson, until recently a top planner for the Joint Chiefs of Staff, is the highest ranking officer to be accused of killing civilians in the Vietnam war.

The 47-year-old West Point graduate also is the first general to be charged with an alleged war crime since the Philippine insurrection 70 years ago.

Colonel Charged

The Army also announced murder charges have been preferred against Lt. Col. William J. McCloskey, who served under Donaldson in Vietnam. No details in McCloskey's case were disclosed. An Army spokesman said the two cases involved separate incidents.

The Army said charges against McCloskey, 39, involve "two alleged victims." It said the incident occurred in March 1969.

A native of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., McCloskey served at the time as the 11th Brigade's operations officer. As a much-decorated veteran of the Korean and Vietnam wars, McCloskey holds the Silver Star with two Oak Leaf clusters, the Legion of Merit, the Distinguished Flying Cross, and the Bronze Star for Valor with three Oak Leaf clusters.

He has been wounded a total of nine times.

Combat Commands

McCloskey is now assigned to the Combat Developments Command, Ft. Belvoir, Va.

The incidents on which the charges against Donaldson are based took place, the Army said, between November 1968 and January 1969 in Quang Ngai Province, where the My Lai massacre occurred the previous March.

In the 1960s, Donaldson served under the Joint Chiefs of Staff, specializing in military aid matters and strategic plans and policy duties. He also was chief of staff for the 7th Infantry Division in Korea.

After a tour on the Army general staff in a planning post, he served more time under the JCS and then, in October 1968, became commanding officer of the 11th Brigade in Vietnam.

In March 1969, he became chief of staff of the Americal Division and in September 1969 was made assistant division commander.

Promoted in October

Promoted to one-star rank in October that year, Donaldson returned to the Pentagon to serve again under the Joint Chiefs in European plans work. An athlete, Donaldson was a member of the U.S. pentathlon team in the 1948 Olympics.

Among his medals are the Silver Star, the Distinguished

Protestant Theologian Reinhold Niebuhr Dies

STOCKBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The Rev. Reinhold Niebuhr, famed Protestant theologian and crusader for social change, who was considered one of the greatest Christian thinkers the United States has produced, is dead at 78.

He died Tuesday night at his summer home after a long illness.

Dr. Niebuhr taught that religious faith is "basically a trust that life, however difficult and strange, has ultimate meaning."

He intertwined his theology with a hard realism and a belief that Christian morality should be manifest in social and political action.

Dr. Niebuhr participated in the conference that led to founding of the World Council of Churches, was among the founders of Americans for Democratic Action, and influenced a whole succession of church leaders by his labors for social betterment.

Political Adviser

He was an adviser to numerous national and international political figures, and was active in politics first as a member of the Socialist party and later as vice chairman of the Liberal party in New York.

"The whole art of politics consists in directing rationally the irrationalities of men," he said.

Niebuhr

"original sin" back into fashion. He saw it, however, in terms not just of individual self-adoration, but in the whole web of collective forces that tend to become objects of idolatry, whether nationalism, scientism, pleasure cults, wealth or utopian social schemes.

"The most subtle evil," he said, is "always a good that pretends to be better than it is."

He disputed the teachings of evangelist Billy Graham and the Rev. Norman Vincent Peale's emphasis on the power of positive thinking. Their "wholly individualistic conceptions of sin," he said, were "almost completely irrelevant" to the problems of the nuclear age.

He believed that the remedy for social ills was not religious conversion but the Christian realism by which man sought to change his environment as best he could.

The son of a German immigrant pastor, Dr. Niebuhr was born June 21, 1892, at Wright City, Mo. He was educated at Elmhurst (Ill.) College, Eden Theological Seminary near St. Louis, and Yale Divinity School, which awarded him a bachelor's degree in 1914 and a master's degree a year later.

He was ordained in 1915 in the Evangelical Synod of North America, originally a German Lutheran Church and now part of the United Church of Christ, and became pastor of Bethel Evangelical church in Detroit.

Police Tactics, Drug Abuse Concern Nixon

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says any new efforts by antiwar demonstrators to disrupt the government should be met by the same police tactics used here last month.

He told a news conference Tuesday night the thousands of protesters who took part in the May 3-6 "Mayday" protests were "vandals and hoodlums and lawbreakers" whose rights nonetheless were protected.

Topics during the news conference covered a wide range but the questioning about police tactics during the protests was perhaps the most persistent Nixon has faced.

He told the reporters and nationwide television and radio audience the tactics used by Washington police should be a model in any future episodes.

"I approve of what they did, and in the event that we have similar situations in the future, I hope we can handle those situations as well as this was handled. I hope they can be handled that well in other cities so that we do not have to resort to violence."

9,500 Arrested

During the May 3-6 "Mayday" demonstrations Washington police arrested an estimated 9,500 demonstrators, mostly on charges of disorderly conduct. Charges against an estimated 2,400 are to be dropped.

Those who will escape prosecution were among about 7,000 who were arrested May 3—the day that the protesters attempted to block Washington's traffic coming from nearby Virginia and Maryland. The effort was unsuccessful.

In other areas during the 30-minute session, the President said:

—The administration soon will announce a four-front "national offensive" against drug abuse and narcotics addiction.

—Politics is something he won't talk about at news conferences because, in his view, it is not a proper forum.

—Easing curbs on trade with China will be announced June 10 and a policy regarding a seat in the United Nations for the Peking government will be formulated in about six weeks.

—No foreign travels are planned in the near future but the President will pack his bags if it becomes necessary to promote an East-West troop cutback in Europe or an American-Soviet accord on arms limitations.

The President said the United States will consider negotiating with the Soviet Union on mutual troop reductions in Europe after Washington has consulted with Atlantic Alliance leaders.

—Any agreement with the Soviet Union on limiting offensive weapons might be handled first as an understanding, rather than as a treaty requiring Senate consideration.

But any agreement curtailing antiballistic missiles—defense weapons—would be a much simpler matter and might be subject to a treaty, Nixon said.

—The administration will issue next week a paper outlining its position on pushing for desegregated public housing. He disagreed with a Civil Rights Commission report questioning whether the nation is committed to equal rights.

"I don't think they should question the sincerity of the great majority of the American people on this issue, particularly in view of the great progress that has been made," the President said.

On the subject of the May 3 effort by demonstrators to tie up the city's traffic and keep government workers from their jobs, Nixon was asked four questions—three in succession.

The questions came as close as many observers could recall to a running confrontation between the President and inquiring reporters.

After fielding one question on the subject earlier, Nixon was asked if he felt the demonstrators posed sufficient threat that "some methods such as suspending constitutional rights was justified."

Nixon said this was an exaggeration and added police showed more concern for rights of the demonstrators than the protesters did for rights of metropolitan residents.

"If they were lawfully and properly arrested," interjected another newsman, "why are the courts letting them out?"

Wiretaps Add Up Big Brother Is Listening

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal and state authorities eavesdropped on 390,681 private conversations involving at least 29,558 individuals through telephone taps and hidden microphones last year, court records disclose.

The conversations monitored in apartments, businesses, pay phones, automobiles, parking lots and streets resulted in 1,912 arrests, the same records show.

The summary of court-approved wiretaps and listening devices is detailed in a 128-page report by the administrative office of the U.S. Courts.

Applications for intercepts doubled last year to 597, compared with 293 in 1969, and none was turned down by state or federal judges, the report said.

Federal authorities were granted permission to place 183 taps or microphones last year to listen to 146,106 conversations involving 10,248 persons. State and local police listened secretly to 244,576 conversations involving 19,310 persons.

The most federal activity was listed in Michigan where agents monitored 22,526 conversations. Next in line were New Jersey, with 22,244 intercepts; Pennsylvania, 21,007; New York, 17,021; and California, 15,676.

Among state and local authorities, New York led the list with 204,057 conversations monitored. New Jersey authorities overheard another 34,161.

No state or county authorities in Pennsylvania, Michigan or California reported placing taps or microphones.

Many of the intercepts resulted in no arrests. In South Carolina, for example, the Department of Justice reported it spent $17,449 to overhear 1,717 phone conversations involving 125 persons but made no arrests.

The department said 1,700 of the conversations were "incriminating," however.

Hussein Orders Crackdown

AMMAN, Jordan, (AP) — King Hussein charged today that Arab guerrilla leaders are plotting to set up a breakaway Palestinian state in Jordan and vowed to launch a "final crackdown" against them.

Hussein ordered Prime Minister Wasfi Telle to take "bold, decisive and tough action against the handful of professional criminals and conspirators who use the commando movement to disguise their treasonable plots."

"I want no hesitation, tolerance or compromise in handling them," said the king in a letter to Telle, broadcast by Amman radio.

Telle, whom the guerrillas consider their most implacable foe, promised a "quick and sweeping purge" of the guerrilla movement.

"We shall chop off the hands which are reaching out to dismantle Jordan's national unity and integrity," Telle pledged.

Hussein's message was the most unrestrained attack on guerrilla leaders in eight months. He accused them of "plotting to grab power at any cost" and of "selling out to the enemy."

The king's move apparently heralded strong army action against 3,000 guerrillas stationed in hilly terrain near the town of Jerash, 25 miles north of Amman. They represent the only sizable guerrilla presence left in Jordan after last September's civil war and April's guerrilla pullout from Amman.

Shortly before Hussein's message was broadcast, an army spokesman in Amman reported a 65-year-old farmer was killed by guerrilla mortar fire in a clash with the army near Jerash.

It was the latest flareup in and are being "constantly" four days of renewed hostilities shelled." Government communists in the area where guerrillas spoke only of sporadic claim all their bases are surrounded by two army divisions mandos.

Heavy Raids in Cambodia Bombers Hit Snoul Captors

SAIGON (AP) — Hundreds of U.S. bombers and helicopter gunships today attacked troops of three North Vietnamese divisions spread across eastern Cambodia. The heaviest strikes hit the enemy division that captured the Snoul rubber plantation from South Vietnamese forces Monday.

Delayed reports told of more casualties among the South Vietnamese forces who retreated Monday from Snoul, about 90 miles north of Saigon and 10 miles from the border. The Saigon command announced that 74 of its troops were missing in action; earlier field reports said more than 200 troops were killed or wounded as they fought their way out of the plantation town.

A spokesman, Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, said no more ground fighting was reported in the region south of Snoul. He said South Vietnamese forces "are still operating along the border line."

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, commanding the South Vietnamese forces in Cambodia, called for all available U.S. air support to help prevent the North Vietnamese 5th Division from pushing into South Vietnam.

The number of missions flown today was not yet available. But the U.S. Command reported about 250 helicopter gunship missions and about 45 fighter-bomber missions flown in eastern Cambodia Tuesday in support of South Vietnamese forces.

U.S. B52s also were used in Cambodia.

The North Vietnamese-Viet Cong 5th, 7th and 9th Divisions were reported spread along Highway 7 to Kompong Cham and beyond on the western side of the Mekong River. Some troops of the 9th Division were reported to have moved 50 miles to the southwest, to an area 18 miles east of Phnom Penh, where they battled hand-to-hand and is doing very well."

85th Birthday Marked By Cardinal McIntyre

LOS ANGELES (AP) — James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, former Roman Catholic archbishop of Los Angeles who was hospitalized May 22 suffering from exhaustion, observed his 85th birthday Tuesday.

Church officials, who said Cardinal McIntyre would remain in St. Vincent's Hospital at least until Sunday, added that he "was getting a complete rest and is doing very well."

Pressure Generated For POW Release

By DON McLEOD
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The move begun by the Nixon administration in early 1969 to publicize the prisoner-of-war issue has generated a cry for "deadlines with withdrawal from Vietnam."

Many of the people most directly concerned, families of the missing men, are raising a thickening demand for President Nixon to make some kind of deal with Hanoi to free the prisoners in return for a deadline for removing all U.S. troops.

The families, many of which have played major roles in spotlighting the POW issue, share Nixon's concern that he has no guarantee the prisoners would be released if he sets a date. But they are saying he should try harder.

Set Deadline
The National League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Asia, a group critics have accused of serving the White House, said Tuesday Nixon should state flatly he will set a deadline for U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam if the North Vietnamese will officially commit themselves to releasing the POWs.

Nixon, in his news conference Tuesday night, indicated Communist refusal to guarantee such an exchange is the big hang-up.

"It always comes down to the same thing," Nixon said. "If we end our involvement in Vietnam, and set a date, they will agree to discuss prisoners, not release them."

Followed by Action
"Now, as far as we are concerned," Nixon said, "we at this time are not going to make any kind of agreement with regard to prisoners that is not going to be followed by action or concurrent with action; from the standpoint of the North Vietnamese we have yet no indication whatever that they would be willing to release prisoners in the event that we took certain steps."

Nor are the families buying Hanoi's off-the-record promises. "We would like to see both sides demonstrate more flexibility and conciliation," said Joan Vinson, the League's national coordinator.

"We would like for the President to say he is prepared to announce a date for withdrawal if the other side is prepared to announce that the prisoners would be released on or in conjunction with that date," Mrs. Vinson said.

Press Nixon
Conversely, Mrs. Vinson said, if the Communists should seize the initiative and make a firm commitment to release the prisoners in exchange for a withdrawal date, the families would press Nixon to take the deal.

But such action could clash with the other half of Nixon's peace program.

Nixon reiterated Tuesday night that peace will have to come "in a way that will secure the release of our prisoners of war, and also in a way that will give the South Vietnamese a chance to avoid a Communist takeover, and thereby contribute to a more lasting peace."

If the Communists, then, should firmly commit themselves to release all prisoners in return for a U.S. withdrawal date Nixon might have to make a choice between the POWs and Vietnamization.

In a news conference last week, Mrs. Harold Kushner, wife of an Army doctor captive of the Viet Cong, said the Nixon administration "is using the prisoner issue to buy time for the South Vietnamese government."

Mrs. Kushner and a splinter group from the League of Families are calling for immediate peace as the only hope for the prisoners.

Shortly after his inauguration, Nixon's administration decided to make a public issue of POWs. The theory was explained that since years of quiet negotiations had failed to secure release or improved treatment for the prisoners, perhaps stirring public outrage against Hanoi would do it.

In a May 19, 1969, news conference, Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird opened the barrage by publicly accusing the Communists of inhumane treatment of prisoners.

After that, relatives of prisoners and missing men appeared regularly with government officials to seek sympathy for their plight. Critics accused the government of using them to stir up popular support for the war.

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Michael Laczko, spry but unwilling to drive, invented their own mode of transportation. Mr. Laczko loads groceries into the back of his three-wheel cart, then attaches his wife's wheelchair, and off they go. The Laczkos were married April 23 in St. Petersburg, Fla. ## Appeal Pends On Draftees Going to Asia

BOSTON (AP) — The Massachusetts attorney general says he will appeal the decision of a U.S. District Court judge who dismissed a suit challenging the federal government's authority to send Massachusetts residents to fight in an undeclared war in Indochina.

Chief Judge Charles E. Wyzanski of the U.S. District Court for Massachusetts dismissed the suit Tuesday on the grounds that a higher federal court already had ruled that Congress participated in the continued prosecution of the Vietnam war.

State Atty. Gen. Robert H. Quinn filed the suit last year after the Massachusetts Legislature passed a law saying that no Massachusetts resident could be required to serve in any overseas hostilities without a congressional declaration of war except in an emergency.

A similar measure has been proposed by the Wisconsin Legislature.

Judge Wyzanski referred to an earlier decision in which the 2nd U.S. District Court of Appeals held that both Congress and the President collaborated in the decision to send troops to Southeast Asia and "neither would long maintain such a war without the concurrence and cooperation of the other."

Outlook on Arms Curb Talks Is Narrowed

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's disclosure that the first U.S.-Soviet strategic-arms-curb deal may produce an "understanding" on offensive weapons along with an antiballistic missile treaty narrows the focus on what may come initially from the superpower talks.

Nixon's news conference comment Tuesday night indicated he expects to send to the Senate a full-fledged treaty if an ABMs accord emerges from the U.S.-Soviet strategic arms limitation talks (SALT).

An "understanding," which he said might be used for an initial agreement on offensive-weapons restraint, would be less formal. Unlike a treaty, it would not have to be presented to the Senate for a constitutionally required two-thirds vote.

One form of "understanding" could be a U.S.-Soviet statement. Washington particularly wants to limit Russia's big SS-9 rockets. U.S. ABMs are supposed to protect intercontinental missiles from a first strike by such Soviet offensive weapons.

Thus U.S. negotiators expect when the SALT parley resumes at Helsinki next month to concentrate on an ABMs deal to be tied in with a limit on land-based offensive missiles.

But the long-range aim at SALT administration officials say, still will be a wide agreement covering as many offensive weapons as possible—to be submitted eventually in treaty form.

Nixon was asked about the form of a possible agreement in light of the May 20 U.S.-Soviet announcement which left unclear just how defensive and offensive weapons would be dealt with, including any link between the two.

Too Early
Nixon said that while it is too early to know yet, the ABM might be covered by a treaty.

Offensive-weapons curbs are more complex because there are missile, bomber and nuclear submarines systems, he said, and the May 20 statement applied to only some of them.

"Consequently what would come out with regard to offensive weapons may or may not be at the treaty level," he said. "It might be at an 'understanding' level at this point, and be at a treaty level at a later point."

The initial emphasis was much broader when SALT first got under way in 1969.

Nixon spoke then of discussing "limitations on all offensive and defensive systems" in an effort to halt the nuclear race.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers said he expected SALT's results to be in treaty form, though he left open the possibility of lower-level accords.

Strike Weapons
The United States went on to propose at SALT a disarmament package covering a variety of long-range atomic strike weapons and ABM. After the talks stalled in disagreement over what offensive weapons should be included, the Soviets offered an ABMs-only deal as a first step.

In the May 20 announcement, Nixon hailed as "a major step in breaking the deadlock" the U.S.-Soviet agreement to concentrate this year on working out an ABMs accord. The two powers also said that together with an ABMs deal, they will agree on "certain measures"—not specified—concerning offensive weapons.

Michael Cudahy Estate in Excess Of $5.8 Million
MILWAUKEE (AP) — The late Michael F. Cudahy, member of a prominent area meat packing family, left an estate of $5,854,206, probate records showed Tuesday.

Cudahy, board chairman and former president of Patrick Cudahy, Inc., died in May of last year at age 83.

He left much of the estate to the family of his son, Richard D., former Wisconsin Democratic chairman and onetime candidate for state attorney general.

Initial reaction in Congress was widely favorable although a few legislators questioned what the announcement meant or suggested Nixon may be yielding to Moscow on an ABM link with offensive missiles.

Unflattering Reference
Nixon himself made an unflattering reference to an "understanding" with the Soviets in another context when he was asked about the Vietnam prisoner issue Tuesday night.

"Now, we have been around this track before," he said. "I should point out that when President Johnson agreed to keep the missiles out of Cuba, the original records of the Cuban missile and Vietnam bombing halt in October of 1968, he did so with the understanding that there was going to be progress in the negotiations, that never been released although there was going to be discussions and for 2½ years we have had discussions in Paris and no progress."

The administration also says there is an "understanding" with the Soviets about their keeping missiles out of Cuba. The original records of the Cuban missile and Vietnam bombing halt in October of 1968, that there was going to be progress in the negotiations, that never been released although there was going to be discussions and for 2½ years we have had discussions in Paris and no progress."

Wage Settlement Worries President

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House disappointment over a three-year, 30 per cent wage settlement for aluminum workers could grow progressively deeper if contracts for 12 million workers in other key industries follow a similar pattern.

Union demands for wage hikes as big or larger already have been promised by union leaders in steel, coal, copper and telephone industries where contracts expire over the next few months.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, expressing President Nixon's unhappiness over the aluminum wage agreement, Tuesday issued the administration's second tough warning that a big settlement in the much larger steel industry could hurt companies, workers and the economy.

Nixon started off his administration saying he would not use "jawboning" tactics to try curbing wage or price hikes, but the big disputes coming up could loosen the presidential jawbone. But Ziegler said, for now, "That's all we can do."

No Comment
The President did not comment on the issue at his Tuesday night news conference.

President I.W. Abel of the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers union, which negotiated the aluminum contract and is bargaining agent for nearly 800,000 workers in the crucial big steel talks, already has accused Nixon of intervening on the industry side. Abel also has said Nixon may plan such stiff action as attempting to impose compulsory arbitration on the union.

Aluminum workers averaged $3.60 per hour before the new wage pact, and steel workers now average $3.45. Politically, it would be difficult for Abel's union to take a lesser wage settlement for steelworkers than for aluminum workers.

The Steelworkers union also is dominant among unions that will negotiate new agreements for more than 100,000 workers in mining, refining and fabricating copper, lead and zinc.

The average wage now, reached after a nine-month industry-wide strike three years ago, is $3.25.

Another major set of negotiations coming to a head involve the Communications Workers and the nationwide Bell Telephone System, covering nearly 500,000 workers.

Communications Workers President Joseph A. Beirne has demanded an immediate wage hike of at least 25 per cent compared with company offers of 11 per cent. Beirne's demand of 25 per cent for the initial year of a new contract far exceeds the trend of 30 per cent for three years. Telephone wages now average $3.28 per hour.

Many telephone contracts have expired and a nationwide mail strike vote, now underway, is expected to be approved and announced at the Communications Workers' convention in Kansas City June 14.

Also searching for major wage increases is the United Mine Workers, indicating demands of more than 30 per cent over three years for nearly 100,000 soft coal miners. Contracts expire Sept. 30.

Attempt to Stimulate Business Is Failing

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's effort to spur business investment with a multibillion-dollar tax break plan has failed to produce results, according to a government survey.

The study shows businessmen expect to increase spending for new plant and equipment by 27 per cent this year to $81.8 billion, smallest rise in a decade and a sharp falloff from last year's 5.5-per-cent boost.

Nixon attempted to perk up business investment earlier this year by offering industry a $3-billion-a-year tax break through faster tax writeoffs for depreciating equipment and machinery.

He still hasn't set a date for putting the plan into effect, but he apparently figured the very announcement of the proposal would produce an upturn in business investment.

The President said the proposal was designed to create jobs, expand the economy and bring help to one of the weakest sectors of the economy, business spending.

The latest survey was taken in late April and early May, more than three months after Nixon proposed the depreciation changes.

An earlier survey, taken just after Nixon proposed the tax break, indicated businessmen would step up their capital spending by 43 per cent this year.

"It's not a rejection of the depreciation thing, but simply that businessmen have not seen the strong orders they need to trigger investment," said a spokesman for Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers.

The council has been reporting signs of an upturn in spending for new plant and equipment.

The survey suggests the economic recovery is proceeding at a more sluggish pace than sought by President Nixon.

Some Signs
The survey, taken by the Commerce Department and the Securities and Exchange Commission, said manufacturers actually expect a 4.2-per-cent decline in capital spending this year.

The loss, however, is offset in the nonmanufacturing sector, where a 7.3-per-cent increase in business spending is expected.

The 2.7-per-cent-boost forecast for 1971 would be the smallest since 1961, when capital spending actually declined, the SEC said.

Another Plan In Ambulance Rescue Debate

Proposed Ordinance Would End Conflict, Use Both Services

An Appleton City Council committee is considering a proposed ordinance designed to end conflict between the city's private ambulance services and the Fire Department rescue squad.

Patterned after an ordinance in effect in the City of Madison, the measure puts the fire department dispatcher in charge of sending emergency vehicles to answer all calls for aid.

If a caller asks for assistance, but the dispatcher determines that the call is not an emergency, the dispatcher will send a private ambulance.

If the dispatcher cannot tell whether the case is an emergency, he will send both the fire department rescue unit and a private ambulance to the scene.

Ambulance Transportation

If both arrive at the same time, the fire department may administer first aid but the private ambulance will convey patients to the hospitals if necessary.

If the fire department squad arrives first and immediate transportation to a hospital is required, the rescue squad will provide the transportation without waiting for the private ambulance.

If transportation is unneeded, the city will not pay the private ambulance for the trip to the scene.

Ald. Robert Roemer (8th), chairman of the council's Public Safety Committee, distributed copies of the proposed ordinance and said it will be discussed later.

Roemer said the fire department dispatcher would call one of the two private ambulance firms one month, and the other the next month, to assure equal treatment.

Measure Studied

Roemer said the measure has been discussed by himself, the private ambulance operators and Fire Chief Roland Kuehn.

The purpose of the ordinance is to eliminate as much as possible the city's performance of services offered by the private ambulances, but without risking the welfare of emergency victims.

The private firms have opposed purchase of a new and larger rescue van by the Fire Department, contending the vehicle will only mean more competition by the city against the private operators.

Ald. Beverly Wieckert (11th) and Kuehn each questioned the proposed ordinance. Mrs. Wieckert asked whether the private firms would bill the citizen if an ambulance was sent and transportation to a hospital was unnecessary. She said she had experience with the system in Madison, where private firms charge for answering a call whether they provide service or not.

Roemer told her that wouldn't be the case here.

Kuehn asked what would happen if the victim preferred transportation to the hospital in the fire department vehicle rather than the private ambulance. Roemer said if the private ambulance was on the scene, it would provide transportation.

Reception for Teacher Set at 5 p.m. Today

A reception for all the former and current students of Mrs. Mary Palmer Rammer, who is retiring this year, will be from 5 to 7 p.m. tonight, not 2 to 5 p.m. as listed in Tuesday's Post-Crescent.

Mrs. Rammer is retiring after 39 years with the Appleton School System.

There Won't be Music At Fremont Friday

FREMONT — A weekend event that authorities feared might turn into another rock festival has been cancelled, it was learned today.

There was a considerable difference of opinion as to what plans had been made for the musical event that was to have started Friday.

Mrs. Bruce Goody of Fremont said that a dance band had been scheduled at the Fremont Hotel, which she and her husband operate, but that was cancelled because her family had other plans.

She said she knew nothing about any large scale musical event that reportedly had been advertised in an underground newspaper. She said that to her knowledge nothing on that order had to be cancelled because nothing had been scheduled.

Airport Materials Approved Over Woehler's Rejection

BY DON CASTONIA

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Four purchase invoices for materials at the Outagamie County Airport which had been rejected by County Executive Alvin Woehler were approved Tuesday night by the county board's airport committee.

In addition, the committee recommended payment of expenses incurred by Airport Mgr. Charles Olson in attending the American Association of Airport Managers conference in Florida last week. Woehler, who had recommended disapproval, was not at the meeting.

The actions were seen as part of the continuing dispute between Woehler and Olson. Since his election as executive, Woehler has called for the resignation of Olson.

Fill Position

In addition to overriding Woehler's objections on the purchases, the committee recommended that Woehler proceed to fill the secretarial position at the airport which has been vacant since it was created by the county board last November.

At that time the board also approved making the manager's position full-time with both being effective Jan. 1. Woehler has argued there is no need for a full-time manager and Olson has remained in his three-quarter-time status pending an administrative review of the airport.

The only item the committee did not unanimously agree on was the recommendation for payment of Olson's expenses to the Florida convention.

Woehler, in a reply dated May 17 to the request submitted by Olson, dated April 12, for the convention, said, "I find it difficult to allow such an expenditure."

Supv. Paul Kostka, Little Chute, said he thought Florida was too far for the county to send someone, especially since he had heard Olson was not under contract with the county.

Valid Contract?

He was referring to the issue of whether the contract under which Olson had operated in the past was still valid under the county executive.

Supv. William Miller, Appleton, asked, "Are we supposed to let the airport sit in limbo" because of what is going on? "If we had a full-time manager as the county board directed, we would have sent him," Miller said.

He added, "We should not be intimidated by rumors. Let's run the airport the way it should be run."

Olson submitted an expense statement of $145.79 for the convention. He said he would be willing to pay the expenses himself but was just asking for consideration.

The equipment which Olson had requested included $72 worth of hand tools, an AR "Meg-Check" meter for $99, six gallons of weed killer for $57.45, four automobile batteries for a total of $66.80 and two automobile tires for a total of $31.90.

Questioned Need

Woehler, in memorandums to the committee, had questioned the need for some of the items, and questioned whether the others were in the budget.

Olson told the committee the "Meg-Check" was used to locate

Huseby Claims Court Study Was Stymied by 'Someone' in County

A charge was made Tuesday night that an independent study of Outagamie County courts was stymied by "someone" from the county.

Supv. Paul Huseby of Appleton, chairman of the county board's judiciary and enforcement committee, said he received a telephone call from a person he declined to identify who informed him that someone from the county "got to Madison advising we didn't want the study."

Delmar Karlen, director of the Institute of Judicial Administration of New York, informed Outagamie officials last month that the institute had abandoned plans to conduct a two-month study of the county's courts. County officials had worked since January to get the study aimed at gauging the efficiency of court administration and at determining if there is a need for a fourth branch of county court as has been proposed by a state study agency.

Karlen indicated that the decision to drop study plans was made after a conversation with E. Harold Hallows, chief justice of the Wisconsin Supreme Court.

Karlen quoted Hallows as saying that a study of Outagamie County alone "would not likely result in any improvement and that it might well be a waste of public money in view of the expected larger study."

Hallows was referring to a statewide court study planned by a 35-member task force recently appointed by Gov. Patrick J. Lucey.

Huseby, who has pushed for the court study by the institute explained that based on his 45-minute telephone conversation with the unnamed source, he is convinced that there is something that people involved locally "... don't want the public to know about."

Huseby repeated support for the study which he said

"could be extremely beneficial to this county."

And he echoed earlier beliefs that the proposed state study will accomplish little in the way of court reform for Outagamie County.

Huseby, who last week failed in his attempt to drum up strong committee support for attempts to revive the Institute study, said Tuesday he was "willing to let the matter set for a week or so."

Supv. George Driesen of Appleton said the study by the New York agency would have been a waste of taxpayer money. He favored the state study as did Supv. Carl Runtz of Kaukauna.

Town Tables Licenses for Three Taverns

Answer Charges of Immoral Dancing

Three Grand Chute tavern-keepers have been ordered to answer charges that the entertainment provided by their establishments is immoral.

The town board Tuesday night tabled Class B combination license applications from owners of the Paradise Club, 4201 W. Wisconsin Ave., the Flagstone Lounge, 2620 W. Prospect Ave., and the Club, 3240 E. Wisconsin Road.

The application of another tavern, Stammer's, 2030 Apple Creek Road, also was tabled because of alleged violations of the town's building code.

The owners of the establishments will be sent letters directing them to appear before the town board June 15 at 7 p.m. The board must approve the license applications before the taverns can legally operate for another year beginning July 1.

Several Complaints

The action was taken after Town Constable John Arlt and several citizens complained to the board that female entertainers at the first three places were performing indecently.

"We're earning the reputation that anything goes in the town," charged Arlt. "They're getting looser and looser. Where's it going to stop? They can't do it in Appleton."

"I don't feel we need this kind of entertainment," said a man who lives near one of the taverns. "I don't think the town should condone it," echoed a woman.

"My children are asking me what are those people doing there?" chimed in another

Ald. Al Stoegbauer Suffers Heart Attack

Veteran Appleton Ald. Al Stoegbauer (4th) was confined in the intensive care section of St. Elizabeth Hospital today after suffering a heart attack at his home Tuesday night.

He was said to be in improved condition today.

The 72-year-old alderman was taken to the hospital by Gold Cross Ambulance.

The family also summoned the fire department rescue squad to the home at 406 N. State St. at 9:17 p.m.

The rescue squad administered oxygen before the patient was taken to the hospital

Strike Could Hinder FVTI, West Projects

Major public and private construction projects in the Fox Cities could be seriously affected if the strike by the trades unions is drawn out.

Spokesmen said the Appleton High School-West addition and Fox Valley Technical Institute projects were being affected and that planned September openings might be jeopardized.

Numerous private and commercial projects also are being affected but most don't face the firm deadlines that the schools have.

The opening of Neenah's second high school also probably won't be affected seriously unless the board of education decides to open it next February instead of in September, 1972. The general contractor also said he didn't expect any effects on the completion date.

The probability of project slowdowns or halts came Tuesday when the carpenters and painters unions, representing about 1,400 tradesmen of the 5,000 in the five basic trades unions in northeastern Wisconsin, went on strike.

Expect Mediation

The carpenters are expecting mediation, and the painters are planning to meet in a regularly scheduled bargaining session next Wednesday.

Meanwhile, the laborers and teamsters locals are planning meetings Thursday, and the bricklayers, who met Monday, are requesting federal mediation. Their contracts ran out June 1, as did the two striking locals, but they haven't chosen to go on strike yet.

The carpenters strike involves 1,200 members and covers most of the 11-county northeastern Wisconsin area. However, the striking painters are of the Oshkosh-local 145, including the newly merged locals from Appleton, Neenah-Menasha, Fond du Lac and Oshkosh — about 200 members.

The most adverse effects apparently could be on the Fox Valley Technical Institute buildings — two of which are slated to open in September.

"If the strike goes beyond July 1, we probably wouldn't be able to move in the buildings this fall," said Stanley Spanbauer, assistant director in charge of instruction.

Anticipate Move

He said that the vocational district is anticipating moving in about 30 per cent of its programs, including many shop programs, into the two buildings in September. If this can't be done, the district probably will have to rent other space, possibly garage space, and then notify the many students of the new teaching locations.

The district's schools at Neenah-Menasha, Kaukauna, Oshkosh and Appleton are nearly full, and the expected 400 enrollment increase can't be handled in present facilities. This 400 is about the number that it's anticipated would move into the new facilities.

"Our biggest problem would be notifying all these kids," Spanbauer said.

The $5.6-million facility isn't to be totally completed until next May but the two buildings are to be completed earlier. The fall enrollment is expected to be up to about 1,600.

Hurt Schedule

Dr. Kenneth Johnston, director of administrative services in the Appleton's public schools, said the strike definitely would hurt the schedule on the West addition. He said the construction just had gotten back on schedule after bad weather delays and now would fall behind again.

The board of education has approved shifting East and West High attendance boundaries, shifting more students to West for next fall. Johnston said he didn't expect the boundaries would be returned to the old lines but that West would have to adjust to the temporary difficulties of crowded conditions.

The $1.8 million addition will boost West's capacity from 1,500 to 2,000, and boundary shifts have resulted in enrollment predictions that West will gain 270 students and East 20. The addition includes classrooms,

Resolution Backing Region Boundary Change Is Shelved

WAUTOMA — A resolution to redelineate the federally recognized tri-county metropolitan region so that two — instead of one — regional planning commissions could serve Outagamie and Winnebago counties' rural and urban areas was cut short Tuesday afternoon at the quarterly meeting of the Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission.

Gordon Bubolz, Northeastern chairman, announced that the redelineation subject was too complicated to incorporate in a resolution. Instead of seeking redelineation, he said, he would confer with Fox Valley Council of Governments and state officials on future planning for the area.

He told commissioners that he felt the Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (Calumet, Winnebago and Outagamie) should be served by one planning organization. He will seek to confer with Charles Hill Sr., secretary of the State Department of Local Affairs and Development, and Kaukauna Mayor Gilbert Anderson, COG chairman.

It apparently was a question by a local affairs department technician Tuesday morning which eventually led to the shelving of the resolution.

Had Approval

The resolution, which was endorsed earlier in the day by the commission executive committee, called for the Appleton-Oshkosh SMSA "to include only the Fox Valley cities which qualify for SMSA designation."

The proposal was similar but not related to an unofficial proposal put forth recently by the Anderson, who suggested that it might be possible for the 14 COG municipalities (towns, cities and villages) to join with Calumet and Fond du Lac counties in a new planning arrangement.

Thomas Pattison, Northeastern planning consultant who introduced the resolution, said that to keep the rural Outagamie and Winnebago areas in the SMSA would disqualify them for federal grants. The metropolitan areas would be more likely to get the funds, he warned.

Both proposals are aimed at the preservation of the planning agencies but contradict Bureau of the Budget requirements that

Drug Council Leader Is on State Panel

Mrs. David Patterson, co-chairman of the Outagamie County Drug Council, has been appointed to a 25-member advisory committee on drug abuse by the State Board of Health and Social Services.

She said today the committee was appointed to "eradicate the problem of drug abuse in the state."

The committee will survey and evaluate the program for state drug abuse services and will advise the Department of Health and Social Services on its long-range policies and goals.

Committee members were chosen from throughout the state and represent citizens knowledgeable in the area of drug abuse.

They will meet monthly and report their findings to the Secretary of State. Public hearings on drug abuse problems will be held throughout the state. The first of these will be held June 24 in Sheboygan

Sanitary Authority

Froehlich, Rogers Want River Study

MADISON (AP) — A feasibility study for a Fox River sanitary authority was introduced Tuesday in the Wisconsin Assembly.

"Piecemeal attempts to curb pollution along the Fox River have been largely ineffective," said the resolution introduced by Reps. Harold V. Froehlich, R-Appleton, and William Rogers, D-Kaukauna.

A sanitary authority would be responsible for controlling all wastes which pollute the Fox River, would operate and supervise sewage treatment plants and would establish an areawide treatment system.

The feasibility study of such an authority would be undertaken by the Legislative Council, and its results reported to the 1973 Legislature.

A large volume of untreated sewage goes into the Fox River. Two municipalities, Neenah and Menasha, have been named in a suit by Atty. Gen. Robert Warren for failing to meet a state Department of Natural Resources deadline for curbing pollution.

Delegates From Kimberly High School to Badger Boys State and Girls State have been announced. Gathering outside the school are, from left, Teresa

Menasha Says No To Light Bill Swap

MENASHA — The Town of course Menasha has asked the city if it can deduct over $10,000 it session in February, exchanged claims the city owes it for heated statements, and failed to street light bills in newly-an- solve the issue. nixed areas from $163,600 in Now the town has sent the delinquent taxes it owes the city a letter asking if it can deduct the $10,640.80 bill ($10,000 plus interest) for the actual bill, the rest for the eight per cent interest the town is charging the city.

If the town does not want the lights to burn, which were installed at the town's request, in some cases after annexation was completed and decided, all you have to do is turn off the lights," the letter, written by City Atty Richard Steffens and signed by Finance Committee Chairman Herbert Batley, said.

The letters were unveiled at a Tuesday meeting of the finance committee. Batley responded by saying that one municipal unit of government cannot offset taxes levied by the fiscal control board which is a separate entity of the law.

"The law is quite clear that if the treasurer does not receive the (school) taxes he should pursue to collect same in the manner provided by law," the letter continued.

Batley also asked why the town hadn't paid the 1970 delinquent taxes as "close to January 1 as possible" like it's supposed to. The city has, he said.

"This is unfair," he added. Bridge Bond A few weeks back, the city approved a $890,000 bond issue for construction of a Little Lake Butte des Morts bridge. They had earlier committed $700,000, but aldermen slashed the $10,000 on the urging of Sixth Ward Ald. Robert Winarski, who said it could go to pay the lighting bill.

Batley's letter noted that the light issue is "now in negotiation" between the town and city.

In other action, the finance committee asked Mayor James Adams to ask Town Chairman Roland Kampe if an $11,246.10 bill owed by the city to the town could be deferred until next year, when the city will have the money to pay it.

The bill is for nearly 4,000 feet of sanitary sewer installed by the town in 1965 across land owned at that time by Carl Schwarzbauer. The land eventually became part of the city's 80-acre industrial park.

The hesitation came when Fifth Ward Ad. Herbert Batley asked what happened to a committee set up by former Mayor John Klein to investigate possible alternatives for dealing with the currently-useless building. That committee, which met a few times, never made any recommendations but turned the matter over to the Menasha Redevelopment Authority (MRA). The downtown project area encompassed the building, and the committee (and MRA) felt its eventual fate should conform with redevelopment efforts for the area, which at that time were extremely uncertain.

Redevelopment efforts are even more uncertain now, but thought is being given (especially by the mayor) to tearing the building down and making a parking lot out of the area. He said it would accommodate about 20 cars.

Year's Probation Given to Man in Shooting of Wife WHITEHALL, Wis. (AP) — David Franzwa, 26, of Eleva, who was convicted last week of homicide through negligent use of a weapon in the death of his wife, was placed on one year probation Tuesday by Judge A. L. Twesme in Trempealeau County Court.

Franzwa had been charged with first degree murder in his pregnant wife's death and with abortion in the death of their unborn child.

Mrs Franzwa was lying on a bed watching television when per shot in the back with a shotgun. Parker said the details of the officials told the jury. Franzwa new work schedule will have to be worked out through further negotiation before it can be

Little Chute Address Graduates Told of Challenge

LITTLE CHUTE — "Your adults with responsibilities listening and doing days are you," he advised. "You're on sense of humor relieves the monotony."

He told the graduates their eyes and ears had undergone of supersaturation bombing with scads of information in the last 10 years.

"What are you going to do with all this information that's been hurled at you?" he asked the graduates. "You must digest it. Or are you going to get indigestion?"

The world's going to be watching to see what you do with that information, Thom said.

"People are going to be battling for what you think. Don't sell out for anything."

He added, "I'm confident you'll digest all this news coming at you in order to make decisions. I trust you'll with-stand the bombardment and be able to say you've made the world a little bit nicer for having been in it."

Town of Neenah Approves Creation of Sanitary District

NEENAH — The Town of Adams told them treatment'sha wanted to extend service to Neenah Board voted unanimous- would cost dearly. "You will the Town of Menasha. The City ly to form a sanitary district have to contract, committing of Neenah turned it down and Tuesday night after a public yourself to pay a user percent- thus began our problems with hearing turned up no opposition age share of capital and operat- the town. I don't know if this council will play do unto your brother," the mayor said, anti- cipating a vote for vengeance.

He also advised them to not meet costs with an ad valorem tax "Put it on a user fee right away and save a lot of headaches."

Several townsmen argued for the district so the town would have control over its own problems. If the town does not take care of it, the city will have to. But the city has said it would only provide treatment in an- nexed areas. Townsmen do not want to annex.

The City of Neenah's long- range plans call for extension of sewage interceptors into the town that would help enable it to handle a projected area population of 80,000 by the year 2000.

A bill in Madison which will probably become law also spurred the townsmen on. It would give cities a chance to annex areas under DNR orders to hook onto a city treatment system. The DNR would issue such orders if it felt that was the way to get polluting wastes cleaned up. If the unincorporated area did not want to be annexed, then the DNR hookup order would be void.

It takes only a majority of landowners in any one area to petition successfully for annexation, however.

A year ago townsmen rejected a possible consolidation with the city. One of the major reasons the committee studying the matter recommended consolida- tion was to get sewerage service.

The count, one of two during the year, took place May 15, "on an absolutely beautiful day in the middle of the warbler migration," Mrs. Shepard recalled. The other count is taken in mid-winter, and both are sent into the state and tabulated for a state-wide total.

Local ornithologists always take the count in the same territory, a circle with a 15-mile diameter centered in Oshkosh.

Sometimes there are more species. The highest counts occur when a warm front comes up from the south. "The birds, the committee studying the matter recommended consolida- tion was to get sewerage service.

Library Site Will Become Parking Lot

MENASHA —The old Elisha D. Smith Public Library, sitting desolate and empty at the corner of Water and Mill streets since a new one was built in 1969, is going to be torn down.

According to preliminary estimates, it will only cost somewhere between $7,900 and $11,900 to do it, Mayor James Adams said Tuesday.

He recommended that the finance committee advertise for sealed quotes for demolition of the building. The committee, after some hesitation, delivered that recommendation.

The hesitation came when Fifth Ward Ad. Herbert Batley asked what happened to a committee set up by former Mayor John Klein to investigate possible alternatives for dealing with the currently-useless building. That committee, which met a few times, never made any recommendations but turned the matter over to the Menasha Redevelopment Authority (MRA). ## Menasha Police Pact OK'd MENASHA — Nine months of negotiations and a fact-finder's report later, the city has reached a 1971-72 contract settlement with the city's 17 police patrolmen.

In characteristically quick style, the common council unanimously (10-0) okayed the contract package with Local 34, Menasha Professional Police- man's Assn., announced by the city's chief negotiator, Third Ward Ald. Summer Parker, at the end of Tuesday's council meeting.

There was no discussion. There almost never is, because such negotiations are carried on behind closed doors by both sides.

The contract calls for salaries ranging in five steps from $870 to $800 per month, effective between June 1 and Dec. 31, 1972, but not covering the first five months of this year. It's the first time the city has signed a more-than-one-year contract with any employe group.

The city patrolmen were paid on a salary schedule ranging from $590 for $690 under the who was convicted last week of previous one-year contract.

Parker declined to say how much money the contract would cost the city in 1971 and 1972. He also refused to say by what percentage the expenditures would increase each year.

Other parts of the contract with first degree murder in his called for:

Work Schedule —A rotating 5-3, 5-2 day work schedule for all patrolmen, with one additional workday added bed watching television when per shot in the back with a shotgun. # Your Money's Worth

How $'s Purchasing Power Has Declined

BY SYLVIA PORTER

The dollar you spent to buy and operate your car three years ago will cover only 88 cents of these costs now. But just since 1967, the dollar you spend for bus fares, subway tokens and other types of public transportation has shrunk even more — to 74 cents.

The costs of owning your car, in short, have been rising at a much slower pace than the costs of taking buses and subways.

The automobile which takes you from here to there is a product. The public transportation which does the identical thing for you is a service.

The dollar which you budgeted for furniture in 1967 will buy you 85 cents of couches, chairs, tables, lamps, etc., today. But the dollar you spend on mortgage payments, homeowners insurance, property taxes, repairs and the like will now finance only 76 cents worth of these homeownership costs.

The couches, chairs and all that are obviously things. The other costs are obviously for vital non-things.

One more illustration to pound it home: the dollar you budgeted three years ago to buy food to eat at home will buy you 88 cents of these foods at the supermarket now. But the dollar you spent in restaurants has dwindled to 81 cents.

Clearly, the technology of modern agriculture has been more successful in holding down the pace of price increases in basic foods — which are products — than has the restaurant owner, who must pay for a vast array of services involved in the preparation and serving of that food before it reaches your table.

According to the latest batch of numbers from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the dollar which you spent on a typical city market basket of goods and services in 1967 will buy 84 cents of similar goods and services today, in 1971. Your dollar has lost about 16 cents in this short span since 1967 — the BLS's new "base" of 100 from which it measures changes of prices in items of a typical city family's market basket.

But this 16 cents loss is only the broad, vague "average" which hides a far more accurate, far more dramatic tale. It is the story not of a single dollar spent for a fixed, official market basket, but rather, as the three examples above underline, it is the story of many different dollars you spend for many different market baskets.

Moreover, the price changes of this era have been far more viciously selective than changes of the past.

Inflation has been far more concentrated in services — and relatively speaking, less in goods — than in the past.

Price increases in goods have been slowed by improvements in productivity (output per man hour) of workers in factories and other fields turning out goods; by spectacularly higher efficiency of machines; by ample supplies of goods; by stiff competition among domestic manufacturers and sellers of things for our spending dollar; by major foreign competition too; by the 1969-70 recession, which has curbed the demand for non-essential, expensive products.

The Post-Crescent B 3
Wednesday, June 2, 1971

But in contrast, our demand for all the services already available to us is unceasing:

Service Costs Rising

Pay in virtually every category of services is rising faster than productivity for the simple reason that there's a limit to how much you can automate a barber or physician or repairman.

At the same time, the scope of services is broadening relentlessly and our economy is becoming ever more service-dominated — with implications to U.S. jobs, living costs and profits which I suspect are still only dimly perceived.

There is some hope for a modest slowdown in the pace of rise in the costs of services — if only because they already have risen so much. There is no hope — none at all — for a downturn. Accept this as one of the economic facts of late-20th century life.

Only 13 Want to be Repatriated

SAIGON (AP) — Foreign Minister Tran Van Lam confirmed today that only 13 sick or wounded prisoners of war will be repatriated to North Vietnam Friday. He said most of the 647 POWs who refused to go feared reprisals from the Communists. "A great many of them don't want to go," Lam told news- men. "That means they really have enjoyed their stay in South Vietnam and don't want to re- turn."

"Most who want to stay dread over to the North Vietnamese. South Vietnamese government offered on April 29 to return 570 prisoners to North Vietnam, it would be condemned by pub- lic opinion, not only in the world but in North Vietnam itself," Lam said. "Those to be repatriated in- clude one warrant officer, one military and political agent, three corporals and eight pri- vates. Seven of the 13 were cap- tured in 1968. All were severely wounded, and six are amputees. All 13 had expressed a desire to be repatriated well before the were preserved because, in the absence of evidence to convict an accused, he is released.

The next questioner: "Mr. President, they are not being released on the grounds that guilt isn't proved. They are being released on the grounds that they weren't properly ar- rested."

Nixon responded that local po- lice "were confronted with what could have been a very difficult crisis" and acted with "very great restraint and with neces- sary firmness."

It was then he added that if other cities face similar situa- tions, their police should copy a page from the tactics manual adopted here.

In another area, Nixon seemed to put women's libera- tion in the same no-no category as politics so far as news conference comment is con- cerned. Asked by a woman re- porter for his views on the movement, he declined to reply. But he did say he's looking hard for qualified women for top gov- ernment jobs—and pointed with pride to two past appointments of women.

Addicted Veterans

The question about narcotics was asked in terms of returning Vietnam veterans. Nixon put it in broader terms in his answer calling for a national offensive against the use of hard drugs, such as heroin. He said such an offensive would not overlook re- turning Vietnam veterans.

The President said drug ad- diction is "a national problem" and said his administration would work to dry up foreign supplies of hard drugs, educate the American people to the dan- gers of drug abuse, prosecute drug pushers and treat drug ad- dicts.

He also said he was against the legalization of marijuana.

Several questions dealt direct- ly or indirectly with Vietnam. One newsman asked what would be lost by fixing a date for total American withdrawal from the war zone "contingent upon re- lease of all prisoners."

Discuss Prisoners

Nixon said he had looked into that possibility and had conclu- ded Hanoi, if given a fixed date for American withdrawal, "will agree to discuss prisoners, not release them."

Another reporter asked Nixon to explain why two public opin- ion polls indicate, despite steady reduction of American forces in Vietnam, "about two-thirds of the American public believe they are not being told the truth with regard to the war." Nixon replied:

"I am not surprised by the polls. I think the people—and the war has been going on for a long time—are tired of the war. We are an impatient people. We like to get results."

He said he believes American withdrawal will be accom- plished in a way that will secure the release of prisoners of war and "that will give the South Vietnamese a chance to avoid a Communist takeover."

Heroin Leads Vet to Prison

MIAMI (AP) — A 21-year-old former Green Beret who said he squandered his $2,400 Vietnam savings for heroin has been sen- tenced to two years in prison for the $22 robbery of a curbside market.

"This is an absolute tragedy," Criminal Court Judge Ellen

Jennings

Morphonios said Tuesday in sentencing John Gerald Jen- nings of Hialeah.

She recommended that Jen- nings, who served two years in Vietnam, be sent to the hospital

"We're participating in a travesty of justice," Morgan said. "We're at fault. The Army is failing its men."

"Combat soldiers who become addicted in Southeast Asia are just being turned loose in the community. There are no facili- ties at the Veterans Administra- tion Hospital—not even a meth- adone clinic," Morgan said.

He argued that without psy- chological rehabilitation Jen- nings would be no better off when he came out of prison and "he'll be right back on drugs."

"I can't change the penal sys- tem," Judge Morphonios said.

Jennings pleaded guilty to robbing a Farm Store clerk at gunpoint April 13 soon after a narcotics pusher gave him a free shot of dope and the weap- on.

Police said Jennings took $22 and fled, clutching the money. A witness told police that Jennings threw away the money.

Jennings, who confessed immediately to police, said that at the time of the robbery "I was quite high." He said he picked up the habit during his second year in Vietnam.

When he returned to the Unit- ed States, Jennings said he knocked his belongings and used his savings for the drug.

Congress Asked To Open Juries To 18-Year-Olds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legis- lation to lower the age for federal jury duty from 21 to 18 was introduced in Congress today.

A companion to the newly en- acted 18-year-old voting privi- lege, the bill was sponsored by three members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, Sens. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., Charles McC Mathias, R-Md., and Phillip A. Hart, D-Mich.

"This legislation will bring to our newly enfranchised young citizens the full measure of the cherished American right to trial by one's peers," the three said in a joint statement.

Tunney, youngest member of the Senate, cited the character of today's youth as "perhaps the most telling reason for including young people on federal juries."

Tunney noted 18-year-olds are tried as adults and that 18.3 per cent of all defendants convicted in 1969 in federal and state courts were 21 or younger.

"Respect for the law and the judicial system of our nation is founded upon participation in the making and enforcement of those laws," he said.

Congress last year extended to 18-year-olds the privilege of voting federal elections. It then passed a constitutional amend- ment, now being ratified by three-fourths of the states, to re- duce the voting age to 18 in all elections.

War Atrocity Conviction Appeal Loses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court rejected Tues- day an appeal by a young Mar- ine convicted of slaying five Vietnamese civilians near Hue in 1968.

The appeal of Denzil R. Al- len, 21, of Labanon, Ind., was the first Vietnamese atrocity case to reach the court. It was turned down unanimously. Al- len is serving a 20-year-sen- tence.

A twice-wounded lance corpor- al on his second combat tour, he pleaded guilty at a court-mar- tial to the premeditated murder of five Vietnamese near Van Dong village.

The appeal contended Al- len's lawyer at the court-martial had evidence the Marine was insane at the time and that the plea of guilty therefore is invalid.

Rogers Meets With Allies On Eve of NATO Meeting

LISBON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers con- ferred today with aides and al- lies in preparation for the semi- annual meeting of the North At- lantic Treaty Organization on Thursday and Friday.

The highlight was the dinner session tonight which the fore- eign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany always hold on the eve of the NATO meeting to discuss German problems.

West German Foreign Minis- ter Walter Scheel was expected to urge Rogers to go slow in any negotiations with the Soviet Union to reduce troops in Europe until a satisfactory agreement on West Berlin is reached.

The Soviets now say they want talks on cutting troop lev- els, something the Western al- lies proposed three years ago. The allies have never set any conditions for such talks, but they have said they would not start moving toward a general European conference on securi- ty and trade, eagerly sought by Moscow, until there is a Berlin settlement.

The United States, Britain and France already are negotiating with the Soviets on Berlin, and progress has been minimal. A key Western diplomat said Tuesday: "We're not going to get anywhere on East-West ne- gotiations until that neuralgic point of Berlin has been re- moved. It's too sensitive. The Russians can touch it any time and make us jump."

Road, rail and air routes across East Germany to West Berlin are subject to Commu- nist harassment. Scheel is ex- pected to argue that it is use- less to try to negotiate anything else with Moscow until this situation is remedied.

Public opinion among the 15 NATO allies is strong for talks with the Soviets on troop reduc- tions, and the foreign ministers' meeting Thursday and Friday in Lisbon's 150-year-old Ajuda Palace will center on the re- sponse to be given to Moscow's overture for negotiations.

Funds Asked to Redo Unused Dorms at UW

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Uni- versity of Wisconsin officials said Tuesday state funds will be sought to convert unused student dormitory space to of- fice and laboratory use.

Spokesmen said $275,000 will be requested from the building commission for remodeling. The converted space would be an alternative to renting ad- ditional quarters.

Portions of some dormitories have been vacant because of reduced enrollments and stu- dent desires to live elsewhere. Enrollment projections indicate 1,300 dorm vacancies next fall.

Long Court Process Begins In Yuba City Murder Case

YUBA CITY, Calif. (AP) — expected Justice Court Judge Tuesday. The 23rd was found Juan Vallejo Corona goes to J.J. Hankins ordered the ar- raignment behind closed doors at the request of Van den Huev- el, who declined to say publicly why he requested the closed ses- sion.

Arrangements were made for the official court reporter to re- lay copies of the arraignment transcript to newsmen.

Corona is a farm labor con- tractor who supplied workers to ranches including the one on which 21 bodies were found hacked and stabbed to death. He is married and the father of four daughters.

Two Miles Away

He is being held in the Yuba County jail at Marysville, about two miles from the arraignment site, the Yuba City courthouse, Yuba City and Marysville, "twin cities" with a total popu- lation of about 25,000, are separated by the Feather River.

Sheriff Roy Whiteaker, who has rigidly enforced Judge Han- kins' rule forbidding release of details about evidence and the investigation, said a wide-rang- ing search by a dozen men unearthed no additional bodies.

After charges are read against Corona, he may enter a plea or a plea can be postponed, depending on attorneys' moves. If he pleads he must, under state law, plead innocent be- cause the charge is a felony.

Could Plea

If he enters a plea, the next step is the setting of a date to determine whether the evidence is sufficient to bring Corona to trial. If the judge rules it is, Co- rona then will be held for trial in Superior Court. No grand jury consideration of the case is

Seminarian Dies in Crash Hours Before Graduation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The death of a Lutheran Theological Seminary student only hours before his graduation today has brought Wisconsin's 1971 highway fatality toll to 336—compared with 417 at this time last year.

James K. Clark, 25, Morton Grove, Ill., a student at the Wisconsin Lutheran Theological Seminary in Mequon, was killed and his fiancée, from Jackson, Wis., seriously in- jured, Tuesday night in a two-car, head-on crash on Wiscon- sin 60 near Jackson as he was taking her home from a gradu- ation concert.

The appraisal is contained in a report by Schwarzbauer to the board of public works. The city bought the land in 1967 shortly before annexing it and a substantial surrounding area in the towns of Harrison and Menasha, including the Wisconsin-Michigan Power Company's S. Oneida Street power substation. During trial of a subsequent lawsuit by the towns challenging the annexation, it was testified that the city paid $2,500 per acre for about 40 acres including the portion now being con- sidered for sale. Another 8.6 acres was bought at $5,000 per acre as right-of-way for the Tri-County Expressway, which commission to map out streets forms the area's south bound- ary. # Extended Trades Strike Could Delay FVTI, West Construction

Continued from page 1 shops, a library addition and other facilities. Oscar Boldt, of Oscar Boldt Construction Co., Appleton, general contractor on Neenah's Neil A. Armstrong High School, said that there is little carpentry work left on the school. He said it should be completed by the February, 1972, date.

Meeting Set
Jerry Jahnke, business repre- sentative for the Fox River Valley Council of Carpenters, Appleton, said that he understood the union would be meet- ing with the contractors Thurs- day along with a federal media- tor. He said the carpenters at- tempted to set up a mediation session before the strike but the contractors refused to go along with it. "Management didn't desire to meet with us until this Thursday," he said.

Alfred Ganther Jr., Oshkosh chairman of the negotiations committee of the Fox River Valley Contractors Association, said that no federal mediator was available for the Thursday meeting but that the contractors still were planning to meet. In a statement, he said that negotiations hadn't gotten to economics yet. He said that both sides had agreed to first settle contract language, and this hadn't been resolved at the last bargaining session.

Language Revisions
"At the termination of our last meeting, May 24, with the carpenters, the union's requests for language revisions still were being reviewed and therefore, to stay within the agreed format, no proposal pertaining to econ- omics could be made," he said, declining further comment.

William Smith, Oshkosh, busi- ness representative of the Paint- ers Local 145, said that he expected no settlement for three or four days. He said an end to

Town Tables Bar Licenses

Continued from page 1 woman. "I don't know how you can tell children it's wrong when they see those cars there after 4 p.m.," she continued.

Town Atty. Roger Clark told the board that "the Outagamie County Sheriff's Department and the district attorney's office are aware of the situation," but, that prosecution of alleged viola- tions of the state obscenity law, (some cases which have gone to the Supreme Court) is becoming increasingly difficult.

Obscenity Law
The obscenity law "has been stretched so far and allows so much now," Clark explained. He urged citizens' support of police departments who actually have the task of enforcing the law.

Other observers at the meet- ing cited what they said was noise at one of the clubs that can be heard a "full block away."

Two of the mentioned clubs have been prosecuted in recent months for either allowing min- ors inside or allowing them to serve beer and liquor without licenses. One was charged re- cently with allowing indecent performances. A dancer at that establishment was cited for disorderly conduct. The case is pending.

Following the results of the June 15 meeting with the tav- ernkeepers, the town board re- serves the right to refuse to grant the license for another year.

Move to Redo Tri-County Region Fails

Emil Brandt, of the local affairs department, said that the SMSAs normally ran on county boundaries. State and Northeastern officials conferred during the lunch break, and Hill indicated later that he had agreed to the joint discussion of the subject.

For Fox Project
In resolutions adopted by commissioners Tuesday, North- eastern indicated that it favored a "comprehensive water quality restoration project for the Fox River and its related watersheds and offered to co- operate to that end, thanked the Winnebago's county board for its "vote of confidence" to stay in the Northeastern, and asked the governor to designate the agency as a clearinghouse for review of individual grant appli- cations from the area, under the A-95 federal programs.

The commission also unani- mously endorsed a motion to retain Bubolz as chairman, which was apparently an effort met with Mercy Medical patho- logists Tuesday afternoon, a side the commission that he conference with Dist. Atty. Wil- liam Carver will be held before would resign in the interest of anything is decided regarding promoting the best planning for the area in the future.

Materials for Airport OK'd

Continued from page 1 open circuits in the runway and taxiway lighting systems. At the present time, he said, the airport does not have any way of checking shorts between the lights. In the past, he said, equipment has been borrowed from Milwaukee County.

Olson said the hand tools were so he could take his own personal tools off the airport. The weed killer, he said, was for use around the runway and taxiway lights so airport per- sonnel would not have to hand mow around them.

The batteries and tires are for surplus vehicles obtained from the government for use at the airport, Olson said. He added that all of the items are in the budget.

Challenge Interpretation
Members of the committee also challenged the interpreta- tion that two houses on airport property which are being rented will have to be torn down for the county to get Federal Avia- tion Administration (FAA) re- imbursement on the land.

According to notification from the FAA, the county is eligible for $162,500 reimbursement for land purchased for the airport and not previously reimbursed. Woehler had contended that unless the two houses, one of which is rented by Olson, are torn down the county cannot get reimbursement on any of the land purchased with those hous- es.

Both Airport Committee Chairman Richard Jahnke and co-Supv. John Dietz said there was nothing to indicate this in the FAA communication. They said their interpretation was they could exempt the land on which the houses were sitting and get reimbursement for the rest.

Ludwig Asks For Jury Trial Tavern Operator Pleads Innocent to Beer Sales to Minors

The operator of Ludwig's Lanes in Freedom, Joseph Lud- wig, 41, route 1, Kaukauna, requested a jury trial Tuesday on 90 counts of selling beer to minors and allowing them to loiter in his tavern.

Ludwig pleaded innocent to the charges brought May 25 on other 22 are for permitting the sworn statements of 90 Freedom area youngsters aged 15 through 17. Outagamie Coun- ty Judge Nick F. Schaefer set trial for 9 a.m. June 30.

Sheriff Calvin Spice and Dist. Atty. James Long interviewed over 120 youths May 24 as part of an investigation after a "traffic accident" the previous Saturday that claimed the life $1,000 bond.

Fire Fighter Veteran Ends 13-Year Term

Lt. Larry Workman Claims Harassment Causes Him to Quit

A 13-year veteran of the Appleton Fire Department, Lt. Larry Workman, 33, of 620 E. Harding Drive, resigned Tues- day because of what he called harassment by Fire Chief Ro- land Kuehl.

Kuehl denied the charges. In his letter of resignation, Workman said he must meet "the needs of my children," and this is impossible because his request for a three-month leave of absence was denied. Work- man, in the letter, referred to "repeated suspensions and false charges of conduct unbecom- ing an officer (and) residing out of city limits."

Kuehl suspended Workman, last Aug. 27 without pay for alleged conduct unbecom- ing an officer. Workman started work with the fire department June 1, 1958, as a part-time employee and began full-time Jan. 1, 1959.

In ordering the suspension, Kuehl cited numerous com- plaints received by his office regarding Workman, including complaints from police, fire and health departments in Appleton and Menasha. These were the "false charges" referred to by Workman.

In a reply letter, which Kuehl presented to the public safety committee of the Apple- ton City Council Tuesday night, he reiterated the fact that he had received the complaints about Workman. The reply was, attached to Workman's letter of resignation.

Kuehl, in the reply, said that Workman "never came to me with any of his problems. Workman, Kuehl said, was only suspended once. "I never at any time harassed him or his family," Kuehl said.

Was Reinstated
Workman was reinstated on the fire department April 13, after a state mediator found his case arbitrable, under the rules of the fire fighters union grievance procedure.

Shortly thereafter, Workman was charged with violating a residency requirement, by mov- ing just outside the city limits into Winnebago County. In June, 1967, the police and fire com- mission amended previous rules, and required that all protective service employees reside within the Appleton Public School Dis- trict.

Kuehl said Workman moved his family out of Appleton to Menasha maintaining his em- ployment at the department.

Kuehl said he conferred with city officials on Workman's request for a leave of absence and that the request was denied.

of Pamela Giesen, 17, route 1, Kaukauna.

Authorities said that state- ments they obtained after the accident indicated that four occupants in the car, three under 18 had been at Ludwig's prior to the accident that oc- curred northeast of Freedom on County Trunk E.

Sixty-eight of the charges are for selling beer to minors. The charges brought May 25 on other 22 are for permitting Ludwig to use a requested that his trial be held outside of Outagamie County because "I don't think I can get a fair trial here because of the publicity I've gotten." Schaefer suggested that Ludwig consult a lawyer.

Ludwig, who appeared without an attorney Tuesday, has posted Saturday that claimed the life $1,000 bond.

On the Medical Front

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor
Weakened Pills
People who suffer from angina pectoris, the painful heart condition, are cautioned not to carry their nitroglycerin pills in pillboxes.
The pills lose potency upon such exposure rather than being kept in their original package, says a study in the Journal of the American Pharmaceutical Association. And the packaging makes a difference, too, it says, with some methods much better than others. It suggests nitroglycerin tablets be put up only in glass vials that have a plastic screw cap or snap cap—kept that way, the pills maintain adequate strength up to two months, but not so long in other kinds of containers.

Hunger for Poison
Children who repeatedly eat poisonous substances may do so because they lack certain vitamins or minerals, and are hungry for them, some University of Rochester scientists think.
The youngsters may not be able to absorb the vitamins and minerals contained in their regular food. Bodily need for them may lead them to eat poisons as a possible source of the nutrients. A study is under way to check the theory.

SECOND DROWNING
Saved from drowning in fresh water, some people nonetheless die within a few days from "secondary drowning." Their lungs fill with a fluid that cuts down oxygen supply and too much acid accumulates in their bodies.
The usual treatment is to give them oxygen, plus a shot of alkali, but this doesn't always work. Among 10 near-drowning victims, three given the standard treatment died within 72 hours, but seven who also received an anti-inflammation drug all survived, researchers report.

Clint Walker Credits Survival To 'Guy Upstairs'
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Clint Walker, the tall, barrel-chested, drawing hero of the former television series "Cheyenne," says it is a miracle he is alive after his heart was pierced by a ski pole.
Walker, 44, was flown Tuesday in a private plane from Bishop in Northern California to UCLA Medical Center.
A ventricle of his heart was pierced May 20 in a skiing accident on Mammoth Mountain north of Bishop. He was taken about 60 miles to a Bishop hospital where doctors performed open heart surgery.
"When I got hurt on that mountain, I knew I was hurt so I turned it over to that guy upstairs. I'm not supposed to be here, but I am," Walker said in an interview from his hospital room.
At the time of the accident, attendants said they could detect no pulse or blood pressure on Walker's body.
Dr. David B. Sheldon, Walker's private physician, said the work among 10 near-drowning victims representing the graduates of OCTC are:

How Big Is Drug Scene Today?

(Second in Series)
BY ALTON BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Editor
They call it "horse" and "smack" and the "Big H" and by other names.

It is heroin, a derivative of opium. And its use and abuse are spreading now, even into grammar school. It is addictive. It is illegal and expensive, costing $5 to $50 or more a day to buy, and crime or prostitution are main sources to supply the money. It produces a feeling of sleepy contentment, until that wears off and the physical need arises to have it again.

Speaking frankly, authorities say they can only make guesses about the extent of abuse of various drugs — there simply are not accurate figures on such illegal activity.

But they can point to trends. One is that what becomes popular in college soon drifts down to high schools, and even into grammar schools where the very young may adopt a drug which the college students surrendered as being too dangerous — that word didn't come down yet along with the drug.

Housewives Too

Other trends: Increasing drug abuse, as with alcohol, pep pills, barbiturates, and marijuana, in industry. And a not insignificant number of housewives take heroin, at least in parts of this country, and more are "diet freaks" abusing the amphetamines or pep pills to dull their appetite for food.

Here are some estimates of use of different drugs:

— Heroin: Perhaps 200,000 Americans are now using it.

Physicians Say we have moved full-blown into the heroin scene. It is regarded by rebellious youth as the ultimate in drug abuse.

possibly 100,000 of them in New York City alone, "but the figures could be higher," says John Finlator, deputy director of the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs. "We are seeducted for the National Institute of Mental Health shows almost one-third of college students had tried pot, with some 14 per cent using it regularly. Another estimate is that 12 million to 20 million Americans have tried marijuana at least once. The World Health Organization estimates that more than 200 million people around the world use marijuana regularly.

Marijuana is used by medical students and by servicemen in Vietnam, where heroin also is indulged, say various reports. These drugs are said to be used on off-duty hours, not under combat situations.

— LSD: Less use now on college campuses; more apparently than a couple of years ago in high schools, or even among younger students.

— Barbiturates: Abuse reaching down more into grammar school.

— Amphetamines: Widely abused, by adults and children. Some reports say "speed" or methamphetamine, a powerful drug, is a big problem.

There are some telltale signs when drugs are being used or abused. But authorities warn against anyone making himself a self-appointed, suspicious detective, since the same physical signs can also be produced by illness or by medicines properly prescribed.

Break in Pattern

One sign is a break in the usual pattern of a person's life, but again this could stem from other reasons such as the depressive feelings of adolescent years. Reddened eyes could indicate use of pot — or the eye infection, conjunctivitis.

Pep pills can make a person highly active and gay — so can some good news. Barbiturates may make the user appear drunk or more relaxed, good humored. Heroin users often appear sleepy, lethargic.

But do not make yourself a snook, attributing any of these physical signs to "drugs" before excluding other reasons — don't jump to easy conclusions.

Tipsy Strolling Penalty Asked In Safety Bill

MADISON, Wis.—A new traffic offense—drunken walking—has been proposed in a highway safety bill introduced by the state Senate's Commerce, Labor, Taxation, Insurance and Banking Committee.

The measure introduced at the request of a trial lawyers' organization would also increase penalties for traffic law violations, make some forms of auto insurance mandatory, and provide for permanent revocation of repeated violators' licenses.

A pedestrian who caused a motor vehicle accident could be charged with drunken walking under the measure. The new crime would carry a maximum penalty of one year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Sen. Gerald Lorge, R-Bear Creek, chairman of the committee, said he did not agree with all the provisions of the bill and did not expect it to pass in its present form.

Butte des Morts Welcomes New Members

Good Dining was part of the fare as new members were welcomed Saturday evening into the ranks of Butte des Morts Golf Club. Enjoying gourmet dining were Mr. and Mrs. James Boldt and Mr. and Mrs. John Gschwind.

Table Talk Acquaints new and old members as they exchange ideas not only of club activities but of the events of today. Engaged in meaningful conversation are, at right, Mr. and Mrs. James Oates, co-chairmen of the dinner dance, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Duszak.

Wins Don't Break Barrier

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — Diane Crump has only one grump about her career as a female thoroughbred racing jockey—"I don't ride enough."

Little Miss Crump, who admits she'd rather ride a horse than dance, or ride a winner than date some groovy guy, is beginning to wonder if owners and trainers ever will really believe a girl can handle a 1,500 pound horse as well as the boys.

"There are just people who don't believe that girls belong in riding," she said with a shake of her brownish-blond hair.

"They don't think a girl is strong enough. I guess that's still the trouble."

What irritates the 5-foot-4 Miss Crump is that owners and trainers are willing to use girls in the morning when help is needed to rub, feed, walk and gallop horses. "But then they just don't want to give them a chance in the afternoon," she says.

Diane is upset because she doesn't know what a girl has to do to impress horsemen she can whip home a winner as well as the boy in the next stable. She has almost 70 victories since that first ride in December 1968. She probably has proved to be the strongest and most durable of the gals who broke the sex barrier in horse racing.

She knows first hand about the willingness of racing people to work girls in the morning, since she's a stable foreman for trainer Don Divine, and does all the "dirty" jobs a stable has to offer. She rides for Divine at both Garden State and Monmouth Park. He's one of the few at major tracks who have opened their saddles to the female rider.

Miss Crump says the jocks have gone along with female riders better than anybody. "They've taken it in stride. They treat us just as nice as they do anybody else. I think they've really taken it good."

'Holder in Due Course' Often Unknown to Buyer

Have you ever bought a set of dishes or a household appliance and found yourself indebted to a bank or finance company rather than the actual seller, asks Margaret Nelson, consumer protection specialist at the University of Wisconsin. The seller will discount your contract to a finance company so that he can have the money right away. The finance company then becomes the "holder" of your contract to receive your money "in due course."

If you're dissatisfied with the product, if it's faulty, or it fails to perform as represented, the seller is still responsible. However, he may not recognize or honor his responsibility. (In extreme cases, he could have been an itinerant who has departed from the area.)

Many people think they can force the seller to make appropriate adjustments by withholding payments. However, if the account is now held by a third party withholding payment isn't effective, Miss Nelson says.

In cases of home improvement, the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture has issued a regulation which extends the responsibility of the seller to the holder. The holder can't collect accounts on fraudulent or defective home improvements.

Even certain national credit cards involve a type of holder in due course process. A local bank may be the holder of the credit contract when you make purchases at a local department store on these credit cards. You have probably noticed that these participating merchants won't make refunds in cash when you return the merchandise. They do give a credit slip for the amount of purchase that can be used in their store on another purchase, the UW specialist says.

Much legislative attention has been placed on holder in due course process. The consumer should benefit from the legislation.

Sister Kathleen Says 'Farewell' Women Theologians Set First National Conference

After 10 and one-half years as administrator of St. Elizabeth Hospital Sister M. Kathleen Daniel, O.S.F., will be leaving July 1 for new responsibilities at Wheaton, Ill.

Craft Sale Thursday at Outagamie Hospital

A sale of craft items made by the residents of Outagamie County Hospital and Golden Age Home is planned from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Thursday in the hospital recreation room.

Proceeds from this Fifth Semi-Annual Show will go into the general fund and will be used to buy more materials for the activity therapy programs. Sale items include many types of ceramics, woven rag rugs, waste baskets, embroidery work, crocheted and knitted items, pillows, woodwork items and framed paintings. The ceramics and woven rugs will be offered for the first time.

The Clipper Club bought the patients a floor loom and the Chalice Circle of The King's Daughters bought a ceramic kiln for the hospital.

The pictures are products of Mrs. Leo Jackson's art class and were framed by Kent Woolridge. Both of these people are volunteers.

Mrs. Myron Bazile has charge of the occupational therapy department.

added as part of a $9,500,000 modernization and expansion program. During her administration St. Elizabeth has developed as one of the leading health centers in this area with advanced medical technology, facilities and services.

Bed capacity was increased to 320 beds with 700 employees. Under her direction a change in overall hospital administration was made from a purely religious community supervised facility to its present operation under the control of a lay and sister board of directors.

Replacing Sister Kathleen will be W.F. Loebig Jr., who comes to Appleton from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at Fort Dodge, Iowa, where he has been associate administrator. Mr. Loebig will be first lay administrator of St. Elizabeth since its founding in 1898.

MILWAUKEE — Twenty-one women theologians, ecumenical and nation-wide in selection, will meet Monday at Alverno College for the first national Conference of Women Theologians. The session, which is being sponsored by the Alverno Research Center on Women, will continue for two weeks. It will represent the first time there has been a unified and in-depth attempt by women theologians to study and access the possible impact of women's experience on this essentially male-oriented field of study, according to Sister Mary Austin Doherty, co-director with Miss Barbara Mulligan of the center.

To be Discussed

Discussed will be such questions as: Why has theology been basically male? Why hasn't feminine experience been incorporated along with masculine experience into theological thinking?

They also will consider what changes in theologically directed moral-ethical-spiritual values might interjection of women's experience into theology bring about and what relation sexuality has to spirituality.

Also to be taken under consideration will be to what extent a male God reinforces sexual prejudice and why theology can't be human instead of masculine or feminine.

Diane Crump, in the stirrups at a race at Garden State Track at Cherry Hill, N.J., says her principle complaint about her career as a female thoroughbred racing jockey is, "I don't ride enough." She says she is beginning to wonder if owners and trainers ever will believe a girl can handle a 1,500 pound horse as well as the boys. (AP Wirephoto)

Anticipate No Change in Life

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A while back you were comforting a flat-chested girl by telling her to "fill with cotton what God has forgotten." Why blame God? It's the genes that have it — or don't have it — and this means parents.

I'm glad you told the girl to stay away from silicone shots. My buddy's girl friend tried those shots and ended up in the hospital with floating tumors. I'll get to the point of this letter because I know you are busy. I'm going with a girl who is very attractive but she is built like a nine-year-old boy. She has heard about the breast implant operation and wants to have it done. Is it dangerous? Does it work? How much does it cost? If you say O.K. I will give her the operation for a birthday present. Please advise.—Mickey

Dear Mickey: No operation is completely risk-free. Generally speaking, however, the breast implant operation is not dangerous. It does "work" and it costs anywhere from $500 up — depending on the doctor. This procedure is done by plastic surgeons almost everywhere.

A word of caution to flat-chested girls who believe a blouse full of goodies will suddenly change your lives: It won't. Any guy who would look at you with renewed interest because of a new front porch isn't worth bothering with. P.S.: Do not write to me for the names of plastic surgeons. Ask your family doctor.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am an American who lives in Madrid. I read your column in Stars and Stripes. Since people write to you about whatever is bothering them I decided to do the same.

Recently I read the Supreme Court had ruled that a man may not be imprisoned because he is too poor to pay a fine. I think this ruling is bad and I will tell you why.

Thirteen years ago when I was in Hawaii, I was informed that my 23-year-old son who was then living in Los Angeles, was in jail for some "minor" offenses which included 30 unpaid parking tickets. When he was halted for ignoring a stop sign, he had no registration for his car.

I paced the floor for several hours trying to decide what to do. I realized if I didn't come up with the bail, my son would have to sit in jail for 20 days, which would ruin his college semester. I knew, too, if I did bail him out he might never learn to respect the law. I had to decide which was more important. Finally I phoned my family in L.A. and told them to let him sit in jail. It was the most difficult thing I have ever had to do. But I'm sure that decision changed his life. My son is now a successful, upstanding citizen and a wonderful person. When people know they have to pay for their mistakes they are inclined to behave in a more responsible manner. — Madelen

Dear Madelen: I agree — but this is not what the Supreme Court ruling is all about. The ruling was designed to protect the family man from sitting in jail awaiting trial for a minor offense because he can't afford bail. The kid with a record of 30 unpaid tickets is a different kettle of fish. I applaud your courage but your criticism against the court ruling is unjustified.

THE ACES

World Champions

ON BRIDGE

by IRA G. CORN JR.
TEAM CAPTAIN

Experience proves that giving partner a ruff usually creates harmony. On the other hand, refusing to allow the ruff entails much risk and often leads to discord. However, there are exceptions.

Observe how Aces Jim Jacoby and Bobby Wolff demonstrate this point in their successful defense of today's hand. The deal was played in the quarter final match of the Vanderbilt National Knockout Team Championship captured by The Aces in March. Jacoby was West and Wolff was East.

North-South vulnerable
Dealer West

♣ Q 10 3 2		♣ A K 7

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	1♠	3♦
Pass	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Two of spades.

Jacoby led the spade deuce and Wolff won his ace, dummy and declarer playing low. Wolff was at the crossroads. Observe what happens if he had returned a spade to give his partner the ruff.

Jacoby would ruff the spade and then lead a heart to Wolff's ace for another spade ruff. Four fast tricks for the defense, but the fifth would never come.

West's best return would be a club, which declarer would win. He would then play his king of spades and ruff a spade for a vital entry to dummy. The heart queen would provide a place for the losing club, and the diamond finesse would bring home the contract.

At trick two, Wolff avoided the trap of giving Jacoby the ruff. Instead, Wolff switched to clubs. Declarer won the club king and played his king of hearts. Wolff won and led another club, which declarer won with his ace. Declarer then played his ace and queen of diamonds, hoping to create an entry in dummy's diamond 10. Wolff ducked!

Declarer was now helpless. He could not avoid losing three more tricks (spade queen, diamond king and a club) in addition to the two major-suit aces already taken by the defense. Down one.

It was an exciting example of an exception to a widely accepted rule. Excellent defense scuttled declarer's hopes and another contract went down to defeat.

Think twice, however, before rushing headlong in search of plays like this one. They do not occur frequently, and there are not enough understanding partners to make it worthwhile.

The Aces will answer your bridge questions. Send questions to The Aces, P.O. Box 12363, Dallas, Tex. 75225. Name your local newspaper. For a personal reply, include a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Deck Brings Life To Older Houses

One weak point of many older homes is a lack of outdoor living space convenient to living areas of the house.

A floor-level deck which is both entryway and family patio, with privacy screens of western wood facing the street, is one solution. Built-in benches, deck furniture and potted plants or trees make a relaxing area.

For an eight-page booklet of colorfully illustrated ideas on adding decks or patios to your home, send 15 cents in coin to Western Wood Products Assn., Dept. 502-P, Yeon Bldg., Portland, Or. 97204.

Standards for Carpet Quality Seen in Future

Some very good news for homeowners and homebuyers may be in the offing, says the Better Floors Council. It referred to moves afoot in the carpet industry to develop quality standards for its product as a purchasing guide for consumers.

At present no such standards exist for carpet, although resilient flooring products such as vinyl asbestos tile have for many years been manufactured to meet strict government-approved specifications.

The chief purpose of such standards is to aid flooring purchasers in determining how long a particular product will last.

Impetus behind the move is a series of complaints by the Federal Housing Administration that some carpets approved for inclusion in the mortgages of new homes it insures have worn out in only a few years, while the initial cost plus interest must be repaid over the life of the mortgage.

According to officials of the Carpet and Rug Institute, discussions are now being held with manufacturers and various government agencies, but they would not predict when a standard program could be effectuated.

Dear Readers: From time to time, I receive requests from you on some basic directions on how to line a knitted or crocheted garment. Here are some fundamental instructions. Block pieces of garment before assembling. Using garment as pattern, cut lining to fit, allowing one inch extra in back body lining for center pleat at neckline and about four inches extra at bottom of sleeves and body. Baste seams of lining together. Assemble knitted garment according to finishing directions. Pin basted lining in place at neck edge, shoulders and underarm seams, forming a regular pleat (or an inverted pleat) at center back neckline. Make whatever adjustments are necessary. Remove the lining from the garment and sew lining seams together. Put lining back in garment and pin in place again. Blind stitch seams of neckline and

Openings Exist for 4 Summer Classes

YMCA day camp for tiny tots age 3 to 6 still has openings in some of the classes. According to Mrs. Maxine Vanervenoven, adult and women's director. Based on the roof patio, the camp will feature nature, crafts, drama, music, creative play-time, field trips and cookouts. Director is Mrs. Charles Fuller who will be assisted by a group of volunteer junior high girl camp counselors.

The new popular art of making things from knotted twine — Macrame — will be taught in a three-week course at the Y beginning at 7 p.m. June 14. During the two-hour course, students will be taught to make such things as wall hangings, lamp pulls, necklaces and belts. Instructor is Mrs. James Miller. The class is open to all age groups — eight years through adults. Registration in advance is necessary.

There are still openings in the summer short term classes in guitar, sewing and bridge which begin June 14 and in typing classes which start July 12.

Persons interested in any of these classes may call the adult and women's department for more information and to register.

Then adjust sleeve and body length, allowing one half inch extra in length to take care of any stretch in garment. Blind stitch the sleeve and bottom edge in place, forming a pleat at center back the same as on neckline.

Serling Script Triggers Airline Skyjacking Plots

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Rod Serling says he's sorry he wrote the script for the movie "Doomsday Flight," which officials say probably triggered at least three air line extortion plots.

"I have done a vast disservice to the airlines," Serling said.

"I didn't realize there were that many kooks in the wood-work."

The writer was interviewed Friday after recent telephoned threats to Western, Qantas and National airlines that planes in flight would be blown up by pressure bombs unless money was paid. No bombs were found, but two of the threats brought payoffs totaling $585,000.

"I wish . . . I had written a stage coach drama starring John Wayne instead. I wish I'd never been born," Serling said.

Airline officials said the extortion threats followed the pattern of the movie plot and that the calls were made shortly after reruns were shown of the drama written for television.

A man who said a National plane from Miami would be blown up unless he was paid $200,000 didn't show up to collect the money he had demanded Thursday.

The previous day officials of Qantas, Australia's international airline, paid $560,000 on being warned that a bomb aboard a Hong Kong flight would explode as the airliner descended to a certain altitude while landing. A pressure bomb is designed to explode as air pressure increases closer to earth.

A subsequent telephone call, apparently from the same man, admitted the threat was a hoax. Qantas said no arrests had been made.

Last August in Anchorage, Alaska, Western paid $25,000 to an extortionist who said a pressure bomb was on a plane carrying 126 persons from Anchorage to Seattle. The money was recovered and one man was arrested.

When the movie was released several years ago Serling said, the Airline Pilots Association sent him a telegram asking that it be withdrawn.

He replied then, he said, that he was the author of the script and had no control over the film's distribution.

In the movie, a plane landed safely at Denver because the high altitude of the mountain city would not cause a pressure bomb to explode.

A bomb was aboard but the extortionist, portrayed by actor Edmond O'Brien, died of a heart attack.

Serling's idea, he said, came from an actual case involving Denver in that instance, the plane set down at Denver because of the altitude. No bomb was found, however.

Parents and Children

By Arnold Arnold

A Children's and Teen-Agers' Bookshelf

The following books — good and bad — are worthy of your attention. These are books to buy at your book store, to borrow from your public library and, in some instances, to avoid. All are recently published and of special interest to parents, children, or teenagers.

I recommend "Baby Learning Through Baby Play" by Dr. Ira Gordon (St. Martin's Press, N. Y., $5.95 hardcover, $3.95 paperback) to all new or incipient parents. Dr. Gordon provides first rate recipes, in clear and simple language, to help you stimulate your baby's learning during the first two years of life. He is the Director of the Institute for the Development of Human Resources at the University of Florida, and he has translated the available research in early childhood education so that findings can be applied by any parent or day-care worker. This illustrated book is chock-full of excellent ideas that will allow you to help your child make the most of the intelligence with which you have endowed him.

One of the best pre-school picture books of the spring 1971 season, "Changes. Changes" illustrated by Pat Hutchins (published by MacMillan, N. Y., $4.95) has no text at all. But you'll be able to "read" this charming book to any three- to seven-year-old on your knee or before bedtime. He (or she) is also likely to "read" the pictures to himself by the hour. This book, properly used, can lead to a great deal of conversation, to questions and answers and to your toddler's independent play. Miss Hutchins' book whimsically demonstrates what two dolls can accomplish with a few building blocks. The illustrations are a delight, the conception is child-like and warm and the book is likely to turn your child on to playing, to keeping busy and to books in general. "Runaways" by Lillian Ambrosino (Seacon Press, Boston; $6.95) should be required reading for all teenagers from ages 12 through high school years. It talks to — but not down to — young people. Miss Ambrosino deals with a raft of common teen problems in a manner that is realistic, honest and sympathetic. If your teenage son or daughter feels like running away or seems likely to be or to consider getting hung up on drugs, liquor or sexual misadventures, here's where he or she can find out how to get instant help, understanding and rehabilitation in virtually every part of the U. S. and Canada. Even if your child does not seem to be a candidate for youth-scene trouble, he is unlikely to tumble into all-too-common pit-falls after reading this book. Giving your son or daughter this excellent volume will be more effective than any amount of moralizing, sermonizing or prohibition.

Finally, here are three pre-school and early grades books your child can do without. "The Man In the House," "All Alone With Daddy," and "One Little Girl," all written by Joan Fassler and illustrated by D. Gregory, P. Landa and M. J. Smyth respectively (published by Behavioral Publications, N. Y.; $3.95 each) are "psychologically correct." Dr. Landa is a psychologist whose writing is passed on by a board of child experts. Regrettably, both the author and the experts lack esthetic judgments and editorial skills and the illustrations match the tired text.

The first two of these books are designed to relieve a child's anxiety about either parent's leaving home temporarily or permanently. The third is supposed to make a mentally retarded child accept herself as a worthwhile person. The intent is good, but here it finds expression with all the sincerity and literary merit of a Run, Spot, Run reader. These may seem like harsh judgments of a sincere, if misguided, effort. But it is important to recognize that clumsy attempts at psychological manipulation of children through books are more than likely to make children distrust adults, authors and books.

Which books on baby and child care, health and education are the best and most reliable? Arnold Arnold has prepared this reading list for parents, taken from his book, "Your Child and You." It includes books, pamphlets and brochures from publishers, government agencies and other sources, some free, that can help parents deal with every possible problem of childhood nurturance, health and education, ranging from pre-natal care to proper diet and remedial training. Send 20 cents and a large (No. 10), stamped, self-addressed envelope to Arnold Arnold, in care of The Post-Crescent. Be sure to print ANSWERS LIST on your outside envelope.

Retouch Return Of Knots

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: I finished an unpainted blanket chest, but knots in the wood keep showing up through the enamel. Can this be stopped? — Milwaukee.

A: Sand knots down to bare wood. Wipe off sawdust with turpentine, then put on a coat of aluminum paint or pure, fresh shellac. Then retouch with the enamel.

Q: Where can I find general information on how chimneys are built and how they work? — Baltimore.

A: Write: Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402, for government bulletin "Fireplaces and Chimneys." 25 cents; no stamps. Public library should have a book or two on home construction, which contain a chapter on subject.

Q: Previous owner did not do the world's best paint job on the bathroom walls. They are peeling and blistering. How do I prepare the walls for repainting? Would enamel work well? — Columbus.

A: Sand down until any paint remaining is firm and solid; not necessary to remove it all. Clean thoroughly, to be sure all traces of soap film are gone. Then put on your enamel (which will be excellent). Follow label directions.

3-Day Program Scheduled for Single Women

A special weekend program for single women is being offered at Monte Alverno Retreat Center June 11-13. Beginning Friday at 7 p.m., and completing Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m., the program will consider the life of a single woman from a Christian point of view.

When asked why this program was being offered, the Rev. Kurt Gessner, director of Monte Alverno, said: "It is the philosophy of Monte Alverno to be of service to various groups of people who are searching for meaning, clarity, and enthusiasm for their life."

"Many women who find themselves in the single state of life often feel left out. They feel like the fifth wheel in the social and party circuit. They have womanly feelings, needs, and desires but creative outlets for these are not readily available."

"As Christians," Father Gessner continued, "we believe that we are called to share ourselves with others, whether we are married, or single. The single woman possesses innumerable outlets for sharing herself."

"Yet in all this, she runs into nagging problems. She is open to loneliness, bitterness and self-pity. She does not have a manly shoulder to cry on or the strength of a man to lean on. But her Christian faith can comfort her even in these 'alone' situations. During this weekend of relaxation, discussion, thought and prayer, we hope to offer the single woman a sense of purpose, direction, fulfillment and self-appreciation."

Single women of all ages and religious denominations can register or receive more information about this weekend by contacting Monte Alverno Retreat Center, 1000 N. Ballard Road.

Twins' Mothers Seek Help With Questionnaire

Because the policy of schools often has been to separate twins during their school experience, the Wisconsin Organization of Mothers of Twins Clubs is interested in finding out how this policy has worked and how it has affected twins both during their formative years and during adulthood.

In order to get information on separation of twins, the group is asking mothers of twins, adult twins, school boards and teachers of twins at the time youngsters were separated about the policy of twin separation and its results.

The group would like to make the results of this study available to school boards and to parents of twins. In this way, members believe, the school board could adopt the policy which would best achieve the desired effect while minimizing adverse reactions. The parents would be informed as to probable expectations during the twins' first separation.

All answers will remain strictly confidential.

To obtain questionnaires or for further information contact: Wisconsin Organization of Mothers of Twins Clubs, Research, Mrs. Harry L. Orth, 920 40th Place, Kenosha, 53140.

After 13 Months, It's a Girl!

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Houghton, who waited for 13 months for their baby to be born, leave with their newborn daughter, Tina, from the Zachary Morton Maternity Hospital Saturday.

The healthy baby girl was born last week after a pregnancy that lasted 381 days, a lot longer than the average pregnancy of 273 days.

Teens Offered Art Classes at Bergstrom

A five-week summer course for teen-agers will begin June 15 at the Bergstrom Art Center. The 10 two-hour sessions are being sponsored by the Friends of the Bergstrom Art Center and will be taught by Rick Starr of Oshkosh.

Starr teaches art in Appleton schools and conducts evening adult classes at the Bergstrom Museum in the winter.

The class will attempt to heighten the students' awareness and perception of natural surroundings by working from nature in a variety of techniques using several kinds of media. These may include pencil, charcoal, pen and ink, markers, oil pastel and water color. There will be exposure to less conventional media of collage, photage, mixed media and three-dimensional constructions to introduce students to various ways of self-expression.

Interested persons should phone Mrs. T. Perry True in Neenah for registration and additional information.

Growing Space—A Bonus

More people will be shopping for a new home this year than last. And, let's face it, the average home purchased will be slightly smaller than, say, two to five years ago — costs are definitely higher.

Buying a home now still makes good sense. Nobody in the housing industry is predicting any cost cuts, and mortgage rates have slipped to more reasonable levels.

Shop with an eye to the future. If you're forced to buy smaller than you'd like, choose a place that will be easy to expand later.

Look upon your new place as a starter home. You may be convinced this is only transitional, that you'll move in a few years to a larger, finer place. But millions of families in recent years have found it acceptable to remodel and stay put.

Check Points Listed

A builder magazine once pictured a post-World War II tract of homes, all new and small, then 10 years later showing all the additions that had enlarged more than half of the houses. History will repeat itself.

Here are some potentials to check:

Is the house situated so another bedroom can be added to the back or side? A back porch sometimes can be expanded into a room. Will set-back restrictions in front allow building on more living space or a sunroom?

Is the attic space suitable for bedrooms or hobby area? Could this be done by pushing a dormer through the roof? Will first-floor framing bear the added weight? Where can you put a stairway?

Is the garage or carport located so it can be converted to family or bedroom? This could become the most pleasant room in the house.

Wood framing is easiest to remodel, builders say. New wall and roof sections are readily tied in; solid wood siding is easily cut and shaped for new openings and corners.

Look for corners and walls where storage cabinets and shelves can be added as needed.

Don't overlook the "outdoor room" concept, which creates living space just outside conventional rooms.

Does the home you want to

Dates Set for Antique Show

WISCONSIN RAPIDS — The women of St. John Episcopal Church will sponsor their second annual Antique Show June 25-26. The show and sale will be in the Church Memorial Hall, located on Highways 13 and 54, directly across from the post office.

The show will be open Friday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Lunch and dinner will be served. Saturday hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. with lunch served.

Dealers from Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota and Wisconsin will display their antiques. Glassware, silver, jewelry, furniture and rugs are among the items to be sold.

Reducing Our Forces in Europe

President Nixon successfully opposed Senator Mike Mansfield's proposal to cut American troop strength in Europe approximately in half. The President found strong support among present and past officials of the United States Government and there was also concern over the withdrawal proposal from many Congressmen.

But in Europe, there was hardly a ripple of apprehension.

In general it seems that many West Europeans have become resigned to the prospect of an eventual American cut-back of ground force support for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. This is based upon the interpretation of our growing American disillusion with our world-wide police role, especially our burned fingers in Indochina, some amount of neo-isolationism in the United States and the practical acknowledgement of Europeans that their countries are generally healthy economically, so presumably they could bear a larger share of the burden of defense.

But the attitude goes deeper than that. The Europeans have lived on the brink of war and the tightening of tensions following the heady joy of military victory in World War II. When the cold war evolved, they feared further Russian encroachment and undoubtedly with reason. But in the last decade and a half, tensions have eased, not consistently and not completely. One can live on the edge of terror only so long. In spite of the Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia, Western Europeans have probably come to believe that the dangers of direct confrontation were over long ago.

Whether this is actually true or not, the existence of NATO is based upon its deterrent factor. The ringing of the Soviet Union with missiles has to a large extent been replaced by movable ones on Polaris submarines, but the threat of immediate retaliation for a nuclear attack is still there. However, the size and ability of NATO conventional forces to repel successfully — and therefore be a reasonable deterrent to — a Russian conventional attack is much more in doubt. President Nixon, in a message to the NATO ministerial meeting recently said that "we have agreed that NATO's conventional forces must not only be maintained, but in certain key areas, strengthened." But it is extremely doubtful that the President could get overwhelming support for increasing the number of American troops in Europe at this time.

Neither are Europeans eager to fill the gap. Prime Minister Heath has already told the House of Commons that England is not going to continue increasing its NATO contributions. France has considerable military power but not remotely at the will of NATO. And while European members of NATO did agree to spend another $1 billion in the next five years to boost NATO strength, the United States is still expected to contribute 14 per cent of the overall costs.

The United States has been guarded about the Russian proposal for an all-Europe Security Conference, although the Soviets have conceded that Americans could take part. Europeans are more interested both because they recognize the possibilities of less American military support and because they believe the chances of war with Russia remote. It has even been suggested that Brezhnev's negotiating proposal might have been aimed at killing the Mansfield amendment because a withdrawal of a sizeable number of American troops would exert pressure upon the Russians to do the same. The Soviet Union obviously is not ready to let Eastern Europe go it alone.

In spite of the concern of many American leaders over a reduction in NATO, it is likely that it is going to come about because of American disillusion, European complacency and the fact of military flexibility.

Joint Hospital Coordination

The joint announcement by Appleton Memorial and St. Elizabeth Hospitals that emergency service in the future will be concentrated at St. Elizabeth's and that Appleton Memorial will develop a specialty in cardio-vascular and thoracic surgery sets an important precedent for health services in the community for the immediate and long-range future.

These moves, considered by themselves, will significantly improve the community's health services. Emergency hospital service with eventual around-the-clock physician staffing answers a real need. And the development of the new diagnostic and surgical capacity at Memorial will bring a service to the community which until now was only available elsewhere.

But of even more importance is the fact that joint consultations between the boards of the two hospitals have produced concrete results. The consultations are evidence that the policy-making boards of both hospitals recognize that they are in effect trustees of the health services of the community, acting in behalf of the people of the community, and that they view this as a joint rather than a separate responsibility.

The recognition of that interpretation of their responsibility will naturally lead to further improvements in service through specialization at one hospital or the other. And while it is bold to speak of a possible reduction in costs in these inflationary times, it can certainly be said that such specialization will provide increased service at less cost than if each hospital went its separate way in developing new services.

Labor Cools on Nixon

In spite of President Nixon's one-time effort to woo the "hard hats" through an invitation to some construction workers to the White House, his Administration is not currently in favor with labor union authorities. According to Ed Townsend, labor correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor, the campaign is already under way to try to form a coalition of workers, blacks, members of the youth counter culture, old age pensioners and anyone else disillusioned for one reason or another with the Nixon Administration.

Such a coalition has obvious built-in handicaps. Many blacks are just as disillusioned with some big labor discriminatory practices as they are with government. Officially the AFL-CIO agrees with President Nixon's gradual withdrawal from Vietnam but there is opposition among some workers who see their jobs threatened.

The young and an increasing number of their elders who want an instant end to our participation are not likely to be enthused about approval of continued bombing raids and no firm date set for complete withdrawal.

But the main issue is quite likely to be the economy. The AFL-CIO executive council has charged that the Nixon Administration's first plan for slowing down inflation without increased unemployment failed to demonstrate that tight money and reduced spending would work. So it reversed itself, according to the council, and put in a series of "miniexpansion measures and optimistic rhetoric" to get the economy healthier by the middle of the election year. But the council insists that won't work either, and except for what was a temporary improvement in March and early April, it has not been a resounding success so far.

More specifically labor has protested the executive holding back of $12 billion in funds appropriated by Congress for a number of projects and claims that the money will be doled "out piecemeal to achieve maximum political effect." But this is nothing new. It is obvious that Mr. Nixon's war policies have been aimed at providing a favorable political climate in 1972 and it is naive to believe that similar considerations have not influenced his economic policies as well. This should be kept in mind regarding the Administration's reluctance to agree to a large increase in the minimum wage as well.

In many ways Republicans can shrug off labor leadership's charges since they are almost sure to back Democratic candidates in any case. The votes of the workers, however, remain important but do not always necessarily reflect the opinions of their leaders.

But the attitude in the Nixon Administration that certain elements of the population are lost to it is also an increasingly dangerous one as far as the election next year is concerned. Writing off the black vote, that of the new young voters, the northern liberals and the labor force means that a majority — even that nebulous silent one — might be hard to find.

Cities in Despair International Conference Hears Only Gloomy News

BY JOSEPH KRAFT
INDIANAPOLIS — "Did you hear about the Indianapolis 500? They were all found guilty," is an old gag that was going the rounds of an international conference on cities held here last week. And indirectly it expresses a bitter truth about the urban conditions that emerged from the conference.

Like a sports spectacular, the conference was supposed to rise above ugly matters such as race and politics. The idea was to emphasize high-flown talk about international cooperation and better relations among cities, states, and the Feds.

But a sick reality kept cracking through the antiseptic facade. In the corridors and over drinks the most knowledgeable delegates to the conference were privately saying that a low-level civil war between cops and blacks may be shaping up for the major cities this summer.

Certainly the leaves are there for the burning. The slow pace of economic recovery means that there can be little relief from unemployment before next fall. Jobless rates among young blacks in the inner-cities are in the 20 and 30 per cent range.

Funds Cut Back
For the first time since the bad riots of 1967, moreover, government projects for the inner-city are actually being cut back because of budgetary stringency. Federal recreation programs which ran for 10 weeks last year are due to be diminished in length this year. Lack of funds will cause many cities to close down schools that were kept open all of last summer.

The pressure of all these circumstances finds expression in numerous signs of growing black militancy. The deliberate move by the "black caucus" in the Congress to seek public confrontation with President Nixon is one case in point. Another sign seems to be growing reluctance of black jurors to convict black men accused of crimes.

Carl Stokes, the articulate black mayor of Cleveland, who was one of the few Democratic mayors who came to the conference here, believes the recent series of attacks on policemen are a third example. "They are," he says, "deliberate efforts, thought through consciously, by blacks to call attention to problems that are being ignored. They tried riots and that didn't work. They tried bombing police stations and post offices and that didn't work. Now they're sniping at policemen."

The situation has been further inflamed by the not exactly surprising reaction of the police to the attacks. In city after city, the men in blue are straining against the bonds of political authority. Mayor Stokes claims that the police have already become "an autonomous force."

"Do you think," he asks rhetorically, "that John Lindsay can control the police in New York? Do you think Mayor Daley was controlling the Chicago police at the time of the riots during the Democratic convention? Of course not." Another urban official who asked not to be cited by name believes the attitude of the police may be the biggest new problem of all. "When 5,000 officers come to the funeral of a policeman killed in New York," he says, "they're telling the mayor something. They're telling him not to try and hold them in check."

Administration officials with urban responsibilities are keenly aware of the bad times that may be in store. One assistant secretary acknowledges that Gov. William Chitt of New Jersey has recently warned Washington about trouble brewing this summer in Newark, Jersey City, and Trenton.

But apart from trying to spring loose a little more money for summer recreation and work programs, the Federal officials have no plans for heading off the trouble. They seem to be crossing their fingers and betting on the breaks.

Seattle, for example, is thought to be relatively safe because the ghetto there will be concentrating for most of the summer on electing a black mayor. Los Angeles seems to be in good shape because the recent earthquake will require considerable building of new schools. Newark is cited by Federal officials as a case where the personal standing of the black mayor, Kenneth Gibson, could keep the lid on. "I'll bet you on that," one reporter said to an Administration man. "I'll bet you a nickel." And the Administration man replied: "That would be the scale of my bet, too."

Looking Backward Shall We Celebrate the Fourth?

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Post for June 1, 1871.

It is now a little more than one month until the next anniversary of our nation's birth.

If the people of this community wish to commemorate that event this year it is time to take some initiatory steps in that direction. Laying aside the question of duty in this connection, and viewing it simply as a business transaction, we are of the opinion our business men and people generally would be amply repaid for the time, effort and money which a successful celebration would require.

By commencing in time, an immense concourse of people would be attracted hither from the surrounding country and neighboring villages, and the result would be a handsome harvest to the business men of this city.

We suggest a preliminary meeting be called, the object of which shall be to arrange a programme and make the necessary preparations for its execution.

Cause for Alarm

NEW YORK (AP) — "People used to rely almost entirely on locks and bars to keep out intruders," says Sol Rosen, president of Pro-Tech Programs which makes and installs electronic alarm systems. "But the soaring crime rate has proven these methods inadequate, precipitating the growth of companies engaged in supplying security systems for industry and home."

Proxmire Has Right To be Miffed Over Presidential Snub

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The person who devotes his life to non-participatory politics sometimes must ask whether too intimate association with the public affairs of his times does not present the hazard of becoming jaded. Thus occasional introspection is a prudent precaution.

The thought arises with the realization of the peculiarly deontological picture of the prospective cast in the Wisconsin Democratic presidential primary election next spring as previewed, so to speak, at the Democratic fund raising dinner in Milwaukee recently.

Is it possible that the publicity spotlight in contemporary American politics is now so unrelenting and intense that Sens. Muskie and Bayh and McGovern and Hughes, for example, appear less plausible in their aspirations than the boyish Thomas Dewey, or the ebullient Wendell Wilkie, or the tousled, slender John Kennedy, or the plodding Estes Kefauver, or the ponderous Robert A. Taft, and the many others who trod the slippery streets of Wisconsin towns in other pre-presidential convention seasons?

Warts and All Visible
Today the candidate is utterly visible, warts and all. He intrudes for such protracted periods that the professional onlooker in the spring of 1971 tends to sigh when he contemplates the prospect of the merciless repetitions that are inevitable before early April of 1972.

All accounts of the Milwaukee affair agreed that it was an ingeniously contrived event by the Lucey-Democratic organization command because it raised a tidy sum of money for the party that will need ample reserves of that indispensable campaign lubricant before long. But they also agreed that it was a good deal less impressive than some reluctant buyers of the $100 dinner places were told as they were reminded that they might very well become acquainted with the next president.

One reason was that the four aspirants were obviously tired. They made less impressive speeches than their attendants assured visitors that their talents would otherwise have permitted. Another was that the program was inevitably long and burdensome. Yet another may have been a tendency for boisterousness on the part of a Democratic political audience that is characteristic of an affair with a protracted speaking program. Democrats typically are not disposed to spend $100 without a little fun in the bargain.

May Be Sideshow

Another factor, perhaps, is the growing conviction of the Democratic activist that of the men who sat at the head table in Milwaukee, only Muskie is a truly national figure, largely as a result of his 1968 nomination for vice president. Hard to put down by the practical party man, therefore, is the idea that the Wisconsin election may be merely a sideshow before the affair in the big tent, and that such men as Hubert Humphrey and Edward Kennedy will be involved if it appears in the spring of next year that the nomination will bring a good chance for a lease on the White House.

The most intriguing aspect of the first tentative presidential maneuverings by Democrats here is the enigmatic position of Sen. Proxmire, who has permitted six months to pass without repudiating the suggestions of some of his friends that he should become a candidate.

He has edged closer to acknowledgement, as in traipsing through the hills of New Hampshire, another early primary state, and asserting that somebody in his party ought to speak for fiscal moderation. (A curious position to those who remember his first years in Washington.)

Would Scramble Ballot
Proxmire has put some Wisconsin liberals already committed elsewhere into a dither because his filing on the Wisconsin ballot would scramble the results hopelessly. He knows that.

But he is probably entitled to resentment about the casual manner in which he is being dismissed in favor of McGovern or Muskie, as examples, when his national identity is at least as good and he is senior to any member of the visiting quartet in Senate service.

Does U.S. Have More Homosexuals Today?

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

A reader in Massachusetts wants to know if, in my opinion, the U.S. is seeing a rise in the number of homosexuals, and if the same rise is discernible in Europe and the rest of the world.

Nobody has the statistical answer to such a question. For one thing, since our laws and these activities have been institutionalized mostly by females in our society.

In Europe, the concept of masculinity does not exclude such interests — the Italian males enjoy opera as much as the women do, the French consider a poet no less virile than a stock-broker, the Russian male dancers in the Bolshoi ballet are as masculine as any prize-fighter.

Americans have always insisted on pushing its boys to one extreme or the other; there is little room for the balanced personality. If a boy at an early age exhibits interest in esthetic matters, this is often considered "unmanly." And so, because he cannot or will not adjust to the prevailing frontier ethos, he moves toward those who "sympathize" with his bent — which already includes a large homosexual community.

No doubt, the Freudians are right that the early family pattern and the roles played by both parents are tremendously important in shaping the psycho-sexual life of a boy; on the other hand, the cultural pressures cannot be ignored, either, and a wavering and sensitive boy is more likely to turn away from the mainstream in the U.S. than in Europe.

It is significant that even confirmed homosexuals do not behave so flagrantly in Europe as they do here, for they are accepted and ignored as an ordinary fact of life. Our frontier mentality not only produces more such men; it also keeps them alienated, anxious and aggressively defensive about their place in our society.

morals are now more permissive than in the past, a larger number of homosexuals feel free to disclose themselves; and this, of course, makes it seem as if the number has increased.

My own feeling is that there is a smaller percentage of homosexuals in Europe than in the U.S., principally because the American ethos is aimed at turning out one particular kind of boy.

We are still very much of a frontier country in our ideal of the "masculine image." The kind of man we most needed in conquering the wilderness and settling the West is still much the pattern for defining "masculinity" in American society.

In the U.S., it is still considered suspect for a young man to be interested in esthetic matters; to like poetry, or enjoy opera, or appreciate the ballet. Indeed,

Subway Just Line, Says Commie Spy

BY ART BUCHWALD
WASHINGTON — My colleague Russell Baker of the New York Times a couple of weeks ago wrote that the reason the Soviets were digging large new holes around Moscow is because they believed that American potholes were really dug for our new missile sites.

For the first time since I've known him, Baker was wrong. It isn't our potholes that the Russians are worried about, it's our subways.

I discovered this the other day sitting on a park bench across from the White House with a Soviet spy named Nicolai. He told me the reason the Soviets were digging their large holes is because we were doing the same thing in Washington.

"Nicolai, how can you sit there and say that we are installing missiles in the Washington area?"

"Ha," said Nicolai. "Why are there large holes all over Washington?"

I started to laugh. "Nicolai, you Communist fool. Those holes are being dug for our new subway."

"Lies, all lies," Nicolai said angrily. "You are not building a subway in Washington. Everyone knows that."

"Of course we are. The plans have appeared in all the newspapers."

"Then what is this?" Nicolai demanded, taking a newspaper clipping out of his tobacco pouch. He read, "The House today defeated a bill to release funds of $34.2 million for the District of Columbia subway construction project now going on in Washington. Without these funds metro officials said they would not be able to continue the work."

"Nicolai, you naive Red idiot," I laughed. "The reason the House won't fund the subway is because the District of Columbia refuses to proceed with a highway program at the same time. You see, there is this guy Natcher from Kentucky, and he's mad because he wants Washington to have more highways, and he says if the District won't build them he won't release the money for the subway."

"Who is this Natcher?"

"He is a congressman from Kentucky."

Small Fry Have Opinion On 'Julie' as a Teacher

By F. T. MACFEELY
ATLANTIC BEACH, Fla. (AP) — What do the small fry at Atlantic Beach elementary school think about Julie Nixon Eisenhower and the fact she may be their teacher next fall? Their reactions range from "she will be pretty" to "she will be normal."

Principal Sam Bailey made the class available for a brief interview on the subject and the third graders who may have Mrs. Eisenhower in the fourth grade seem to be happy about it.

"I want to tell her to tell her father that our country is proud of him," said Martha Ann Lyon. But Colette Guernsey has a different message for President Nixon via his daughter: "Stop the war before it's too late."

Nearly all of the 32 youngsters agreed Mrs. Eisenhower is attractive.

"I think she will be pretty," said Phyllis Ann Bernard.

Gordon Glen Gruhn Jr. emphasized it as "very, very, very pretty." Jane Koehlin added "nice shaped."

But Stuart Cathey predicts "she will be normal."

If Julie's husband, Ens. David Eisenhower, can get away from his Navy duties, most of the children would like him to visit their class.

"If David came to see me, I would say 'how does he like living with Julie?'" said Vicky Morton.

"I will try to be as good as I can to her," pledged Martha Ann Lyon.

Linville Young said he plans to bake a cake and take it to the new teacher.

Among the things the children would like to ask from President Nixon are new schools, a pay raise for their principal, air conditioning for their classroom, color television for the school and a visit to Jacksonville by the President.

Teachers at the school plan a friendly and helpful welcome for Mrs. Eisenhower when she reports for preschool planning Aug. 23.

"We are all very happy she has been placed in our school," said Dorothy Wilson, fourth grade chairman. "I and the others will help her with her books and materials."

Mildred Carr, a black teacher, said she doesn't anticipate any problems within the school or from this community of 6,775 permanent residents.

"I hope there won't be any people transported to our area

Vintage Appliances Sought by Museum

BY DONALD SANDERS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — If you have an electric egg beater that dates back to before World War I, the Smithsonian Institution would like to hear from you.

They could put it in a display of an oldtime kitchen alongside their newly acquired 1894 electric fan and 1908 electric toaster.

The Smithsonian's Museum of History and Technology is planning to open within the coming year a new hall of electricity, one section of which will be devoted to early electrical appliances.

A small collection of them was presented to the Smithsonian Thursday by the General Electric Co. and its employees. GE replaced with modern appliances any it found suitable.

1894 Fan
The oldest of these is a 10-inch fan with six blades, from about 1894, the first made by GE to operate on alternating current rather than batteries. It was made to operate on 104 volts, and since present voltages are somewhat higher, a voltage regulator was used to demonstrate it. The fan still runs remarkably quietly. GE officials on hand weren't sure why it had six blades or why later models usually had four.

Also in working order was a toaster with a white porcelain base, dating from 1908. Two upright wire racks hold two pieces of bread near the heating elements. It toasts two slices of bread one side at a time, and turning the bread to do the other side without burning your fingers is a bit tricky.

The toaster sold for $3.50, a deluxe decorated model for $4.50. The cord was extra, at $1.

There is an electric iron from 1905, with no choice of temperature and a triple-unit heater with three translucent heating bulbs. Unlike the iron, it has a choice of three heats and weighs 46 pounds. It dates from 1919.

Waffle Iron
More recent is a 1924 waffle iron made by Hotpoint, now a part of GE. To use it you need two cords, one for the bottom grid and one for the top. And there's a 1926 vacuum cleaner, with a cloth bag that had to be emptied by hand.

One thing Bernard Finn, chairman of the Smithsonian's Division of Electricity, would like to add to the collection is an old rotating ceiling fan. Others are a 1917 electric clock and a 1919 kitchen mixer. Since the exhibition won't be confined strictly to kitchen appliances, he could use also a curling iron from 1920 or earlier, and pre-1917 electric drills, cigar lighters, glue pots and sewing machines.

The Maytag Co. already has donated its first model electric washing machine, made in 1915 from a 1911 design, with a heavy wooden tub and brass hardware.

Tomorrow River Will Be Treated

Residents of Amherst Area Favor Rough Fish Kill, 54-22

AMHERST — Area residents voted 54-22 last week in favor of chemically treating about 50 miles of the Tomorrow River and lakes and ponds to kill carp and other rough fish.

The fish collect mainly at the dams here and at Nelsonville.

Plans call for installing a barrier in the Tomorrow River above Nelsonville to stop the carp from moving upstream. The mill ponds here and at Nelsonville then would be lowered and the chemical would be put in the water.

An alternate plan of lowering the two ponds to concentrate carp there and netting them for removal was defeated, 38-28.

The Upper Tomorrow some of its tributaries are free of carp. Some residents had objected to the chemical treatment because of its possible effect on the trout in the streams, particularly the Upper Tomorrow.

A Department of Natural Resources (DNR) biologist told the group that the chemical, antimycin, would not affect the fish.

The plan will be submitted to the DNR's office for approval. Treatment may begin in the fall.

Royal Couple Not Injured in Minor Accident

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowdon, were involved in a minor auto crash Monday with a news photographer who has twice brushed with the royal family over his pictures.

The Snowdons were driving home from a village fete when their car and another driven by freelance cameraman Ray Bellisario, 35, bumped into each other near Handcross in Sussex. No one was injured.

Bellisario had just photographed Snowdon walking around the fete with Lady Jacqueline Rufus Isaacs. The 24-year-old society beauty's name was linked romantically with Snowdon's last Christmas by gossip columnists.

Bellisario said Snowdon "wasn't exactly pleased" at being photographed and the royal party left the fete soon after.

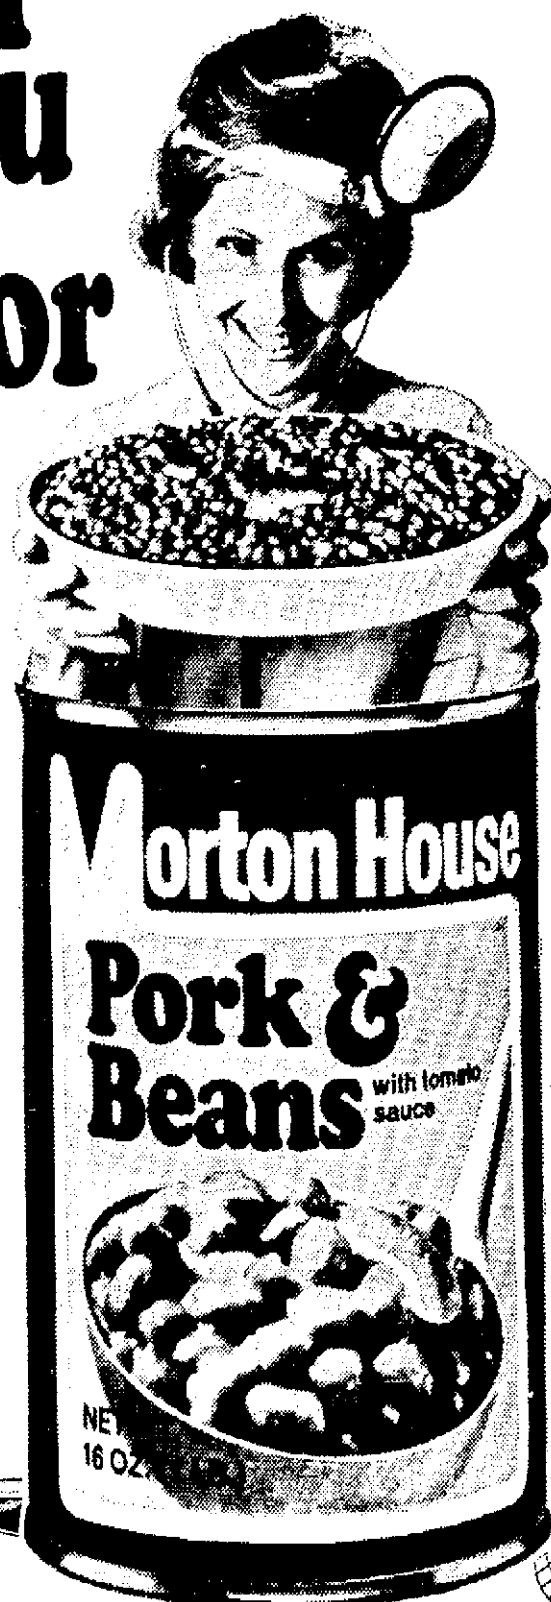

The photographer landed in court in 1963 after photographing Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret riding in a royal park. A year later he was criticized by the press council for taking pictures of Princess Margaret changing into water skiing gear at Ascot Heath.

Glad You Asked That

BY BY GARDNER

Q: Did Vanessa Redgrave have that baby yet? And has she become Mrs. Franco Nero? — Andy Anderson, Tampa, Fla.

A: Yes — and no. In the marriage game, the score with Nero remains zero. But the climate continues warm and humid — with a second baby reportedly on the way.

Q: With the final fate of Lt. Calley still up in the air, why have many radio stations refused to play "The Battle Hymn of Lt. Calley"? S.R.D., Denver.

A: Some (not "many") stations here and overseas consider the ballad to be of questionable taste. The Australian Broadcasting Commission, for example, in banning it, said, "It has no musical value. We sincerely hope our people would have enough common sense not to use it." However, the record is one of the sneak hits of the year, the Record Industry Assn. of America putting its gold seal on it — indicating it has already sold over one million copies.

Q: I'm pretty fat — but didn't

Elsa Maxwell once say there were certain compensations for overweight women? — Mrs. Arturo C., Detroit.

A: Yes. "Men do not suspect them," were her comforting words, "and other women do not fear them as competition."

Q: Years ago I enjoyed Jim Bacus's wit as a panelist on "To Tell the Truth." Why was he dropped? — Patricia F., Topeka, Kans.

A: Because he outwitted himself. Got too many laughs. Reflects the busy Mister Magoo: "I think they were afraid the hilarity might take something away from concentrating on the game."

Q: Sen. Muskie's mission to Moscow — what did he learn from it? I heard he didn't get to meet anybody real important. — L. Sternberg, Philadelphia.

A: On the contrary. Flanked by onetime U.S. Ambassador to Russia Averell Harriman, the White House hopeful met Alexei Kosygin (Chairman of the Council of Ministers), deadpanned Andrei Gromyko, Vladimir Promyslov (mayor of Moscow), Mstislav Keldysh (president of the U.S.S.R. Academy of Sciences), and lesser lights of the Soviet hierarchy. They discussed the international situation, American-Soviet relations, housing, schools, hospitals, recreation facilities, and ecological problems.

Q: Why was Napoleon buried in seven coffins — one inside the other? — Mrs. Treasure G.

Tate, Dubach, La.
A: He wasn't. Virtually all the reference books state that he was buried in a block of red granite in Des Invalides Hotel in Paris. Now the site of a museum.

Q: As Sgt. Bilko, Phil Silvers proved he could get laughs without being off-color. So how come he decided to do a new Broadway comedy about adultery? — Is it really as risqué as it sounds? — Imogene K., St. Louis.

A: "Your question," Phil observes, "must have come from someone who could not have seen the play... I would not allow myself to be associated with anything objectionable or grim. 'How the Other Half Lives' does have as its theme infidelity which, whether we like it or not, does exist. But," the popular comedian-actor concludes, "it's done with taste and, from the audience reaction every performance, a great deal of humor."

Q: Where can I get the "How to Play the Piano" book that Roger Williams wrote? — R. K. Kerns, Mr. Pleasant, Pa.

A: Williams's notes are not in book form. What you heard about is his computerized system of learning — a 10-month course — given at studios and music stores that have the necessary equipment. Cost per pupil is around $40 a month. Since the computer must be hooked up to the piano, it cannot be learned at home.

Young Hobby Club Three Letter Word Can Win Talking Globe

BY CAPPY DICK

Today's puzzle contest for boys and girls offers a new chance to win an exciting, educational Encyclopaedia Britannica "Talking Globe." This is the globe that is accompanied by a record that reproduces dramatic sounds of nature such as the roar of the oceans, the rumble of a volcano and the howl of a typhoon.

Five of these globes, which are more colorful than many globes, will be awarded as the national grand prizes in today's contest. One will be presented to each boy or girl whose contest entry is judged to be one of the five neatest and most original correct ones.

For a contestant's entry to be considered for a national prize it must first win a local prize, five of which will be awarded to boys and girls of the Fox Cities. These prizes will be four-tone plastic whistles, each four and a quarter inches long, in the form of a red-and-white ocean liner. The whistles will be awarded for the five contest entries that are judged to be the neatest and most original correct entries received from young readers in the Fox Cities area. Entries winning local prizes in all cities where this column is published will be reviewed to find the five neatest and most original of all. These will win the "Talking Globes."

The puzzle appears in the picture above. To solve it and arrive at a three-letter word that is something explorers use, decide which letter appears the greatest number of times in each circle. This will produce three letters which, when combined, will be the puzzle solution.

Clip out the picture, paste it on paper, print the solution beneath it, along with your name, age, address and Zip number, and decorate the entry in any neat, original way with crayons, paints or cutouts.

Address the entry to Cappy Dick's Midweek "Talking Globe" Contest at The Post-Crescent and mail it before midnight of day after tomorrow.

Names of the prize winners will be published here and their awards will be sent to their homes by mail. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries become Cappy Dick's property; none returned.

Tomorrow: Two good ideas for owners of coaster wagons!

'Unfriendly 10' Start Their Film Comebacks

Ring Lardner Jr. First to Win Oscar
With M-A-S-H Since Blacklist Days

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When the answer came from one of the Ten, Albert Maltz, whose most recent work has included the script of "Two Mules for Sister Sara" and a book of short stories, "Afternoon in the Jungle." He gave this summary:

Who were the Hollywood Ten? Also known as the Unfriendly Ten, they were film makers who declined to testify before the House Committee on Un-American Activities regarding their political affiliations. All were convicted of contempt of Congress. All served prison terms ranging from 5 to 10 months. They emerged to find themselves locked out of their usual employment because of a film industry blacklist.

The blacklist lasted from 1948 to the early 1960s and blighted the careers of scores of film people. But the most famous of them were the originals—the Hollywood Ten. What has happened to them?

Des O'Connor Has Premiere Show Tonight

BY TV SCOUT
8-9 Channel 5 — Host Des O'Connor is joined by regulars Connie Stevens and Jack D. Douglas and guests Jack Benny and the New Faces on the premier of Des O'Connor Show. Des and Connie add the songs, with Jack Benny leading the comedy. This show, produced in Elstree, England, is brought to you by the folks who gave TV audiences the Tom Jones and Engelbert Humperdinck Shows. (Premiere)

9-30-10 Channels 11-9 — NFL Action features the exploits of the division champs, the San Francisco 49ers, once fairly welcome as an opponent because they weren't rude enough to win.

6-30-7 Channels 11-9 — Courtship of Eddie's Father reruns a non-Christmas Christmas program, originally seen on Dec. 23. There is no reference to the season, but it's message of giving perhaps more fully expressed the spirit of Christmas than many more obvious programs. It's all about a good luck medallion which is given and given and given until it comes around full cycle. (R)

6-30-7:30 Channels 2-7 — Harry Guardino has a good role which he acts well in Men at Law. He's a once-famous lawyer, now blind, who lives in a trailer camp on his income. He has rigged a trigger device for self-protection and a man is killed. It seems a simple enough case of accidental death for our lawyers, until various layers begin to unpeel like an onion. (R)

6-30-8 Channels 5 — "Hannah", on Men From Shiloh, is a script written for talented young Lisa Gerritsen by her grandfather, True Boardman. She plays a stubborn child traveling with her ill father to find her mother, the one who ran away with a gambler. J. D. Cannon, Peter Breck, Warren Stevens and Susan Oliver are also in the guest cast. (R)

10-30-11:30 Channel 2 — Sharon Farrell plays Chad Everett's teaching assistant on Medical Center. She's married to a struggling student, is pregnant for the fourth time in two years, is suffering from an ulcer, is a chronic aborter and thus decides to seek sterilization. Only Chad, after sterilization is approved, tries to make her see that this is not the proper solution for her. (R)

9-10 Channel 5 — Four-in-One: San Francisco International Airport has a classic hostage tale, the kind that could be set in the Old West, the Far East or, in this case, at a busy airport. The hostages are Lloyd Bridges, Barbara Werle and Barbara Sigel, and they are being held by some bad guys who need a plane to fly them out of the country. (R)

Nonsmokers In Japan Get Bonus

The bonus is for an additional 1,000 minutes on the job in the factory, which makes instruments and tools. ## Former Eagle Star Brookshier Named 1,000-Yard Club MC

Tom Brookshier, former Philadelphia Eagle defensive star and current "color man" for CBS telecasts of National Football League games, will be master of ceremonies for the June 8 NFL 1,000-Yard Club Foundation banquet at Sabre Lanes.

Brookshier, who has been sports director of WCAU-TV, in Philadelphia, for seven years, is featured on NFL pre-game and post-game shows in addition to handling commentary during broadcasts. He has been working on the Philadelphia Eagles network and, for the last two years, has worked the Cotton Bowl game in Dallas.

Brookshier signed his first contract with the Eagles in 1953 upon graduation from the University of Colorado. After one season, he switched to baseball (signing with Pittsburgh), and he played minor league ball before entering service with the Air Force. He returned to the Eagles in 1957 and played until a leg injury forced his retirement in '61.

All-Pro Team

In 1959 and 1960, Brookshier was picked on the all-pro team, as a defensive back. He also played on the 1960 and '61 Pro Bowl teams. Brookshier was a member of the Eagles' NFL title team in '60.

Brookshier has been honored for various community services and is currently on the board of directors of the Maxwell Football Club and the Pop Warner Football program and is also a member of the City of Hope.

Oakland's George Blanda will be the guest speaker for next Tuesday's banquet. Oakland's Jim Otto will receive the "out-standing blocker" award. New York's Ron Johnson and Washington's Larry Brown will be inducted into the 1,000-Yard Club.

Downing and Sapp Crack 3 Hits Each

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia. — The Appleton Foxes punished three Cedar Rapids pitchers for 12 hits and nine runs Tuesday night to move into first place in the Northern Division of the Midwest League.

Ross Sapp and Brian Downing each slugged three hits, while Lamar Johnson drove in three runs as the Foxes whipped the Cardinals, 9-5.

The win pushed Appleton a full game ahead of Cedar Rapids, who led the Foxes by 8 percentage points going into the contest.

Rich Gossage pitched five innings and picked up the win, his fourth in five decisions.

The Foxes opened the scoring with a single run in the second when Larry Linville scored from second on an error.

Cedar Rapids came back with three runs in the third, including a two-run homer by Russ Bennett. The Cardinals also scored single runs in the fifth and seventh. In the fifth, Rob Sievers singled home Jim Hairston, who opened with a double. Sievers doubled home the Cardinals' final run in the seventh after Bruce Thompson walked and went to second on an error.

Appleton got an unearned run in the fourth and then added two runs in the fifth when Sapp, Jerry Hairston, and Downing singled and Johnson followed with a double.

Three hits, including a two-run double by Johnson, added three runs in the sixth. A run scoring single by Sapp and a sacrifice fly by Steve Szcior added single runs in the seventh and ninth.

Fred Warner (1-1) was charged with the loss.

The two teams meet again tonight.

Quality 6 Individuals, 2 Relay Units Rockets Dominate Meet

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Neenah Shattuck's rampaging Rockets continued to make shambles of area track meets by walking off with the WIAA Class A sectional crown with 74 points at Appleton East Tuesday afternoon.

The Rockets, who have been unbeaten since losing a 3-point dual decision to Fond du Lac in their initial outdoor meet, qualified six boys in eight events plus both relay teams for the state meet at Monona Grove Friday and Saturday.

Green Bay Southwest was a distant second with 43 points, five qualifiers and a relay team. Appleton West came in third with 27 points, qualifying four boys plus a relay team.

Appleton East qualified two, while Rick Vanden Heuvel accounted for all of Kaukauna's 12 points with firsts in the shot put and the discus.

Double Winners

Joining Vanden Heuvel as double winners were Rick Matson and Steve Suechting, both of Neenah.

The Rockets, in all, captured eight firsts, including two relays, and added two seconds. They won both berths in the 440. Suechting won the high and low hurdles in 15.35 and 20.9 seconds, respectively, while Matson was first in the 100 yard dash and long jump.

Vanden Heuvel tossed the shot 53 feet, 6½ inches and the discus 155 feet, 4 inches, or ting only .284 for the year, had singled in Milwaukee's first nings, suffered his third defeat three inches further than Dale Reh of Appleton West, the other well as three of his five homers: Ted Kubiak, whose homer with Sam McDowell scheduled to pitch for Cleveland and Bill followed with a single. He Parsons for Milwaukee.

Johnny Briggs Belts 2-Run Homer as Milwaukee Wins

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Johnny Briggs, who spent seven nondescript years as a semi-regular with the Philadelphia Phillies, suddenly is making big waves as a Milwaukee Brewer.

The muscular left-handed swinging retread continued his assault on the County Stadium fences Tuesday night, belting a two-run home run and a scoring single as the Brewers made it two in a row over the Cleveland Indians, 5-3.

'Good Park'

Briggs, acquired in an early-season swap, attributes his recent success as much to the stadium confines as to extra hitting practice. Although hitting only .284 for the year, Briggs has 13 hits in 39 at bats at home for a .333 average, as well as three of his five homers: Ted Kubiak, whose homer with Sam McDowell scheduled to pitch for Cleveland and Bill followed with a single. He Parsons for Milwaukee.

"This is a good park to hit," Briggs said. "In Philadelphia, it was 329 feet down the right field line but the fence was high and so was the scoreboard in right center."

"I hit from 13 to 20 doubles there and I think that a lot of those would have gone for home runs in this ball park because of the lower fences," he said.

Briggs' homer Tuesday night came off Steve Dunning and keyed a decisive three-run rally in the sixth inning.

The Indians were carrying a 3-1 lead into the bottom of the route to his sixth win in 10 decisions.

Dunning, who worked 5 1-3 in the first, followed with against five victories.

The series concludes tonight, to pitch for Cleveland and Bill followed with a single. He Parsons for Milwaukee.

Washington Nips Angels as Maddox Homers in Seventh

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The lights started going out in Washington's RFK Stadium at just about the time Elton Maddox started coming on.

Maddox, on the bench at the start of the game when all the electricity was going full blast, came in as a pinch hitter in the sixth inning, delivered a single and remained in the lineup.

Then, after the game had been delayed 32 minutes by a power failure, Maddox produced some of his own with a three-run homer in the bottom of the seventh that provided Washington's 6-5 victory over California.

Elsewhere in the American League Tuesday, Oakland's Vida Blue won his 11th game, beating New York 5-2. Kansas City downed Boston 4-2. Minnesota trimmed Detroit 3-1 and Milwaukee defeated Cleveland 5-3. Baltimore and Chicago had the day off.

First of Year
Maddox, one of the bodies involved in the Denny McLain trade last winter, was on the bench strictly on merit. He had just a dozen hits all year before Tuesday night. The homer was his first of the year, increased his RBI total to eight and lifted his batting average to .177.

The Senators were leading 3-2 when half of the stadium lights went out while California was batting in the top of the seventh. The game was delayed 32 minutes because of the failure in the Stadium's high voltage circuit breaker.

Maddox' homer increased Washington's lead to 6-2, giving the Senators enough of a cushion to withstand California's three-run rally in the eighth.

Blue retired 17 consecutive New York batters and mowed down the Yankees to run his season's record to 11-2. After the Yanks nicked him for a run in the first, he didn't allow another base runner until the seventh.

2-Run Homer
In between, Reggie Jackson ripped a two-run homer and the A's took control of the game. Blue struck out six, increasing his total to 108 for 112 1-3 innings. All of his victories have been complete games.

Kansas City tagged Boston with its third straight defeat and cut the Red Sox' first place edge in the American League East to one game over idle Baltimore.

Amos Otis ripped his third

Neenah Track Team Sets Sectional Pace

Dickson of Neenah had a tight race in the 880 with the Neenah youth winning by a few steps in 1:59.9. Dercks was clocked in 2:00.1.

The Rockets' other first went to its swift relay team which chalked up a 1:32.5 to 1:34.3 for runnerup Southwest.

Other Fox Cities qualifiers included Nate Carlsen, Neenah, on a second in the 440; Randy Leach, Appleton East, second in the long jump; and Rodney Burrell, West, second in the low hurdles.

Decisive Rally
Winner Jim Perry started the decisive rally with a single, only the fourth hit of Les Cain. An error and a walk to Rod Carey, loaded the bases and set the stage for the game-breaking walks to Killebrew and Cardeenas.

Brewers Expect Huge Crowd '10-Cent Beer Night' Set

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Brewers, their attendance lagging in the face of poor weather, Tuesday announced what they consider a sure-fire way to attract fans—cut-rate beer.

The Brewers have designated their Friday night, June 18, game against Oakland "Ten Cents a Beer Night."

Wicker Sent To Giants For Heise

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Brewers Tuesday traded outfielder Floyd Wicker, hampered by injury after a brilliant spring training start, to the San Francisco Giants for utility infielder Bob Heise in a straight player swap.

Wicker, 27, was hitting .474 in spring training until shelved by an ankle injury. He has appeared in 11 regular season games, all as a pinchhitter, and has one hit in eight times at bat.

Heise, 24, can play second, short or third and hit .234 in 67 games in 1970. A righthanded batter, he has gone hitless in 11 trips this year.

Clete Boyer to Become Free Agent Tonight

Doesn't Believe Paul Richards Will 'Blackball' Him

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Clete Boyer said Tuesday he didn't think Atlanta Braves General Manager Paul Richards would "blackball" him in major league job hunting for a third base to call his own.

Boyer, who quit after criticizing Richards and Braves manager Luman Harris, said, "I'm not earning any money now, but I'm happier than I've been in a long time since I left the Braves."

The 33-year-old baseball player was to tee off today in a pro-am golf tournament at a plush resort in Palm Beach. But Boyer also got in few more swings at the Braves Tuesday.

15-Year Veteran
"This whole thing started with an interview in New York in which I spoke my mind about the organization," said Boyer, a veteran of some 15 years in professional baseball. "That led to my personal feelings about Paul Richards and Luman Harris," said Boyer.

He said Harris imposed a curfew that turned into "a joke" because, Boyer said, day midnight he becomes a free agent which he says he guy he's after and chews him

Responds to Treatment Canonero II Ready For Race and Sale

NEW YORK (AP) — Caro- nero II is on the market—his owner says—and he is ready—a doctor says—three days away from the Belmont Stakes and dropped four straight to the Chicago Black Hawks in the playoffs. "A decision will not be an- nounced until after the Belmont Stakes," said Pedro Baptista, who owns Canonero II but races him in the name of Ed- gar Calbett, his son-in-law. "But win or lose Canonero will be sold after the Belmont. This, provided the price and conditions are those we seek." A victory in the 1 1/2-mile Bel- mont Stakes Saturday at Bel- mont Park would make Cano- nero II the first winner since Citation in 1948 to win thor- oughbred racing's Triple Crown—the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont. Cano- nero II would be the ninth to achieve the feat. No Worries "He'll be in the race," said Dr. William O. Reed, one of the veterinarians who has looked after the Kentucky-bred colt since his arrival here. "Don't worry about that." Canonero II has been in- flicted with a skin rash and an infected right hind foot, but Reed said the rash has all but disappeared and the foot in- fection is responding to treat- ment. Baptista, a Venezuelan indus- trialist, said five groups from the United States, and one each from Venezuela, Japan and England have bid to buy Cano- nero II.

Ellis Hurls 3-Hitter; Bucs Blank Cards

By KEN RAPPOPORT Associated Press Sports Writer

The Houston Astros nipped the Atlanta Braves 7-6, the Pittsburgh Pirates 9-0 on Tuesday night, the last as he won his seventh game in 10 time the Pirates put three shut-outs together was in 1958 with a fast ball pitcher. No Ron Kline, Vernon Law and more. My ball is a moving ball. Bob Friend.

Before Ellis pitched his beauty, Bob Moose and Steve Blass even more.

The sinker and the curve were right where they were supposed to be Tuesday night—straight for Ellis, who is "on kept battering the ball into the verge" of becoming one of ground and why the Pirates the best pitchers in the majors, came up with two double plays according to Virdon.

Actually, it was all over in the first inning when Pittsburgh's shelled the Cardinals' Chris Zachary from the hill with a five-run bingle capped by Ellis' two-run single.

Four Hits Each

Cesar Cedeno and Jesus Alou each got four hits and knocked in three runs apiece to pace Houston over struggling Atlanta, which lost its 11th in 13 games.

Cedeno blasted his third homer of the year over the center field fence in the third with Wade Blasingame aboard. Cedeno, hitting .196, doubled home Joe Morgan from first in the seventh and boosted his average 20 points to .216 with the three-hit night.

Alou sent the Astros in front 3-2 in the third with a single and knocked in two more with a double in the fifth.

Cedeno's performance was his second hot game in a row. He was 3-for-4 against Cincinnati Monday, after struggling at .180 for most of the year.

A throwing error by third baseman Bobby Valentine permitted Montreal to score two unearned runs in a three-run second inning and the Expos made them stand up for their victory over Los Angeles that snapped a six-game spin 24th Straight.

Atty. General Mitchell Concerned About FBI

Irrked at Failure to End Bank of America Bombings; Confers Often With Hoover

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — A recent confidential memorandum from Atty. Gen. John Mitchell to Director J. Edgar Hoover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation reflects a dramatic and highly significant change in the power relationships inside the Justice Department.

The subject of the Mitchell memo is the outrageous epidemic of unsolved political bombings in California, directed mainly against the Bank of America.

The polite but perfectly clear message the FBI must do better in investigating these cases. If not, the attorney general implied, another federal investigative agency might have to take over.

For Hoover to have received such a critical memo previously in his 47 years as the first and only FBI director would have been unthinkable. But it has now become routine for him to take orders from this attorney

Evans Novak

Hoover, now 76, as permanent lifelong director in the FBI.

He's a Fat Target Hoover is not resisting A That concern stems not only from the fact that Hoover's survival, he knows that he continuation in power as we have previously reported, offers a fat target for attacks on the FBI from both the near and the far left. More important, law enforcement experts acknowledge that the FBI's esteem as a great law enforcement agency, built by Hoover, is now slipping under Hoover. In short, the longer he stays in power the faster his luster as No. 1 G-man — and the luster of the FBI — dims.

Thus, the President and Mitchell are in a peculiar position. In public, they defend Hoover against all attacks (which actually help to keep him in power). Beneath the surface, however, they hope Hoover — somehow, some way — will get the message and voluntarily resign within the next year.

Such a resignation though more likely than formerly is still improbable. But whether Hoover stays or not, Mitchell is exercising his legal authority over the FBI. Although the Kennedy-Johnson era seldom saw Hoover from one year to the next, Mitchell frequently confers face to face with the truth is that both President and Nixon and Mitchell are deeply director. The memo on the California bombings shows the

Raynaud's Disease, Phenomenon Different

Thosteson
BY G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please explain Raynaud's disease — N M

Dear Doctor: What can you tell me about Raynaud's phenomenon causes symptoms relief? — L B O

These are two disorders which seem to be identical but are not. 1972 he will surely be fired. If Mr. Nixon is re-elected, his involuntary retirement after a long and (until recently) honorable career will be aggressively pressed.

In the meantime, with Mitchell watching the old man like a nursemaid, Hoover is not the master of his house that he used to be. For instance, after the embarrassing burglary of FBI records from the office at Media, Pa., a panicky Hoover proposed padlocking most of the FBI's 500 small field offices. Cooler heads prevailed, convincing the director to shut down only 50 or so. The incident was the symbolic of the end of one-man rule at the FBI.

and treatment may be totally different. Raynaud's disease is a matter of spasm of the small arteries of the fingers and toes, usually occurring primarily in cold weather or when the person is exposed to cold water as when swimming. The cause is not known, but it occurs more in women than in men, often in those who are nervous and sometimes underweight. It may affect others in the family which falls short of the arteries temporarily. More recently it has been found that cold is imperative. In addition, smoking is taboo because that also causes spasm of the small arteries. Medication can be taken to dilate the arteries. Careful protection from the cold is imperative. In addition, certain drugs used to control blood pressure (reserpine, methyldopa) afford relief when given by injection. Thus one shouldn't suffer in silence. Measures of relief are available. Milder cases tend to improve in time, severe cases can lead to ulceration of the fingertips.

Raynaud's phenomenon (as differentiated from disease) has

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have several large freckles and moles on my back and arms and I noticed a few months ago that three of them have turned quite dark, almost black. Is this significant? — Mrs. A R

The rule is to investigate any change in a wart or mole. Turning almost black certainly is a change. Yes, this can be significant so don't delay any longer. See your doctor.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My friends say shingles are inside nerve roots. It follows along the nerve and its branches, so it is both inside (the virus), and outside (the eruption). Discomfort sometimes continues after the rash has disappeared and there's nothing to show the phenomenon, the form of presence of the ailment.

Man Honored For Saving Appleton Boy

GREEN BAY — A young man from Sturgeon Bay has been selected to receive the Fort Howard Paper Founda-tion's award of valor for rescuing a 16-year-old Apple-ton boy from the icy water of Lake Michigan early this spring.

William Wiesner, 20, will receive a specially engraved commemorative plaque and foundation check for $1,000 at an award dinner in Sturgeon Bay.

Wiesner was nominated for the award by the Door County Sheriff's Department based on its report of a near tragedy north of Jacksonport.

Two Appleton teenagers, Richard VanderHeiden, 500 E. Brewster St., and Steve Ar-noldussen, 541 N. Bateman St., both juniors at Xavier High School, were spending Easter vacation in Door Coun-ty and were fishing about 200 yards offshore in a small boat. The boat overturned as the boys attempted to free a snagged line. Arnoldussen managed to make his way to a nearby snackbar.

Wiesner, who was fishing nearby, made it to the Vander-Heiden boy, using an inner tube. He pulled him to a sandbar for emergency resuscitation, then carried him to shore.

Wiesner had Red Cross junior life saving in high school and senior lifesaving in the Marine Corps from which he recently was discharged. He had been a star athlete at Sturgeon Bay High School.

Home, Family Council Not Ready to Quit

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The State Council for the Home and Family target of shot and shell on the capital battle field for more than a year, is evidently determined to go down with its own guns blazing.

Nominated for abolition early this year by Gov. Patrick J. Lucey when he submitted his appropriations bill to the legislature, and condemned again by the legislature's joint finance committee when it recommended its version of a biennial budget bill to the legislature, the council in a report on its activities ignores such signs and calmly lists what it calls "critical imperatives" in the campaign to promote family stability and to reduce social disruptions by the prevention of divorces and other marital break-ups.

While failing to acknowledge that the budgetmaking powers wish to abolish it, the council argues with some indignation that it has been undernourished with state funds and complains that the state's spending for the promotion of tourism is many times the size of the budget for its work in promoting the stability of the home and family and the prevention of divorce.

Under Fire

The report was distributed by Nester Kohut, one of several executives of the Council, who has said several times lately that he will quit the assignment to take other employment.

Kohut had held his job only a short time when he came under fire last year for expenditures made to finance a statewide conference which the state auditor, directed to check by the Legislative Council, found did not wholly comply with state law. Some of the expenses were disallowed.

The executive listed what he called "critical imperatives" for his agency on behalf of the state in programs designed to halt what he called the excessive divorce and family break-down rate.

He proposed — State family conciliation service under "appropriate auspieces" which would also help in the modernization of the state code of family laws.

—Purchase of professional services to aid the courts in conciliation work, to assure that a conciliation branch is part of every divorce court in the state. He said state and federal funding is already available.

—Creation of family life councils in communities.

—Reallocation of state budget resources to give a higher priority to family life problems. The state's concern for resource pollution is far more intense than about family disintegration trends, he said.

—Development of collegiate undergraduate and graduate programs in family or human development to train family life educators.

The Council was financed upon its creation through an increase in the marriage license fees authorized by the legislature. In its current year it has a fund allocation of about $60,000.

Republicans originally called for the audit of the council's expenditures, which was interpreted as a signal of its difficulties with the lawmakers who control the state's purse. Democrats control the legislative finance committee which recommended the elimination of funding for the agency.

The studies and other programs of the council, the budget bill proposes, should be transferred to the giant state department of health and social services. No special financing provision was included in the proposal headed for early consideration in the state assembly.

Waupaca Beats Marion In Exhibition Baseball

MARION — Marion lost an exhibition game at Waupaca Monday, 5-3. Waupaca collected 11 hits off Al Elandt and Ruck Reiss while Marion had 10 hits off winning pitcher Ken Tappa.

Bob Solberg led the winners with three hits while Doug Peske had two. Vaughn James had two hits for Marion, one a double, while Bruce West and Al Elandt each had a pair of singles.

Legitimacy Sought For Test Tube Babies

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—The Assembly Judiciary Committee Tuesday was urged to endorse a Senate bill specifying rights of children born as a result of artificial insemination.

The bill of Sen. Henry Dorman, D-Racine, says that a child born to a married woman through artificial insemination with written consent of her husband is a "legitimate and natural child."

"If you gentlemen want to have a stud service facility in this state, fine," said Democratic Rep. John McCormick of Milwaukee. "But I can't vote for it."

Supports Measure

WA McNown, of the State Department of Health and Social Services, said his agency supports the measure as the best thing for the children.

"That doesn't mean we are for artificial insemination, though," he said.

McNown said it was unfair to let a child grow up without a legal father who would accept the financial and emotional responsibility for his upbringing.

"We think the bill is an attempt to get through the back door a practice that is not yet accepted or totally acceptable in society," said Les Kohut, representing the Council for Home and Family.

Supporters argued inheritance rights should be afforded to children produced through artificial insemination. Under current statutes, they cannot claim anything from the natural mother's husband when he dies unless legal adoption proceedings have taken place.

The committee also considered a Senate joint resolution requesting Congress to impose penalties on persons who cross state lines to avoid child support payments.

Fugitive Fathers

Milwaukee Atty. Gerard Paradowski said similar "fugitive fathers" bills date back to the 1940s but have never passed the legislature.

He stressed the need for something stronger than the "reciprocal enforcement" act, which relies on the father's state of residence to furnish his address to Wisconsin officials, thus enabling them to collect support payments.

"Unfortunately," Paradowski said, "there isn't much cooperation. The father's state of residence often stands to lose from enforcement of the support responsibility."

Rep. Lloyd Barbee, D-Milwaukee, urged support for a bill providing that a felony conviction could not "in and of itself" bar a job applicant from being hired to a position requiring a state license.

Lawyer-Lawmaker Vote Blocks Attorney Fee Limit

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Attorneys in the Wisconsin Senate joined together Tuesday to defeat an attempt to limit lawyers' fees in wrongful death court cases.

Republican Sen. Walter Chilsen, a non-lawyer from Wausau, attempted unsuccessfully to amend a bill and place a $17,000 limit on attorney fees in such cases.

Twelve attorneys voted with the majority as the Senate defeated, 18-11, Chilsen's attempt to return a wrongful death measure to amendment stage so the amendment could be adopted.

The bill would remove the $35,000 limitation a relative or estate can now collect for a wrongful death. It was passed on a voice vote, after Chilsen's amendment attempt failed.

"There have been accusations that this legislature is in the hands of attorneys," Chilsen said later.

"It is," commented Sen. James Swan, R-Elkhorn, who voted for Chilsen's effort to amend the measure. Swan also is a non-lawyer.

Attorneys now receive 33 per cent of the damages recovered in wrongful death cases, Chilsen said. Without his amendment, they could collect the same percentage of unlimited claims, money which should go to the relative, he added.

The Senate also passed another Assembly-approved bill. It would expand Wisconsin's comparative negligence statute so that a person 50 per cent or more responsible for an accident could receive a comparable percentage.

Under present law, a person adjudged 50 per cent or more responsible collects nothing.

The measures were expected to be sent to Gov. Patrick J. Lucey's desk by the end of this week.

Parochaid Funding Dealt Double Setback

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Advocates of state aid to private schools suffered their second setback within 25 hours today as the Wisconsin Senate refused to fund the bill with a cigarette tax increase.

Opponents of the tax increase turned down a plan to boost the cigarette tax by four cents per package. The vote was 17-14.

Late Tuesday, the senators had turned thumbs down on a five cents per pack tax proposal.

Republican Sen. James Swan of Elkhorn spearheaded bipartisan opposition to the tax hikes, claiming sufficient funds would be available in Gov. Patrick J. Lucey's proposed budget.

The Democratic chief executive has pledged to veto any spending proposals that are not adequately financed. Sen. Reuben LaFave, R-Oconto, warned the bill was destined to be struck down unless it was funded.

"Must we crawl on our bellies to the East Wing?" Swan asked in reference to the governor's veto threat.

"Are we men, are we senators, or are we groveling mice?" Swan asked.

Democratic Sen. Joseph Lourigan of Kenosha said the Senate would be acting irresponsibly if it did not provide for financing.

"We are acting like Nero did when Rome burned," Lourigan said. "If you want to scuttle the whole bill, vote against the tax increase."

The senate debated for more than four hours Tuesday before eliminating the 5-cent per package cigarette tax proposal. The tax boost would have brought in an estimated $32 million annually to support Parochaid.

The only revision early in the afternoon was an amendment that would eliminate proposed double grants to parents earning less than $4,000 a year. That change, introduced by Sen. Walter Hollander, R-Rosendale, and Senate chairman of the Joint Finance Committee, passed by a vote of 16-14.

Sen. Ronald Parys, D-Milwaukee, introduced an amendment to eliminate the cigarette tax and thereby cut the funding provision from the bill.

The proposal to send an unfunded bill to the governor, who has vowed to veto such a bill that does not provide for its own funding, passed by a vote of 18-12.

Parys told the senate he objected to the cigarette tax because that tax is now already higher than many states, so bootleg cigarette importing.

He pointed out that Sen. Gerald Lorge, R-Bear Creek, has also introduced a bill with a 5-cent cigarette tax to fund medical education.

The Milwaukee Democrat said, "I would like to see it go to the governor's desk unfunded. When the budget comes along we'll take a look at it."

Parys said that a funding attempt "to whiplash the governor into line" and said he would not participate in that. Sen. Raymond Heinzen, R-Marshfield, chairman of the Senate Education committee that endorsed a version of the bill calling for a 2-cent cigarette tax and a surcharge on income taxes lent his support to the cigarette tax. He called the 5-cent tax a responsible way to fund the bill.

Oppose Amendment

Supporters of aid to private schools strongly opposed Parys' amendment.

"I don't know any tax less repulsive than a cigarette tax," Lorge said. A smoker himself, Lorge added, "If they can throw their money away smoking on weeds they should pay more for education."

Sen. Reuben LaFave, R-Oconto, called the Parys motion an

General Charged in Assault on Civilians

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — The Army announced today that charges have been preferred against Brig. Gen. John W. Donaldson, accusing him of murder and assault involving eight Vietnamese civilians.

Donaldson, until recently a top planner for the Joint Chiefs of Staff, is the highest ranking officer to be accused of killing civilians in the Vietnam war.

The 47-year-old West Point graduate also is the first general to be charged with an alleged war crime since the Philippine insurrection 70 years ago.

Colonel Charged

The Army also announced murder charges have been preferred against Lt. Col. William J. McCloskey, who served under Donaldson in Vietnam. No details in McCloskey's case were disclosed. An Army spokesman said the two cases involved separate incidents.

The Army said charges against McCloskey, 39, involve "two alleged victims." It said the incident occurred in March 1969.

A native of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., McCloskey served at the time as the 11th Brigade's operations officer. As a much-decorated veteran of the Korean and Vietnam wars, McCloskey holds the Silver Star with two Oak Leaf clusters, the Legion of Merit, the Distinguished Flying Cross, and the Bronze Star for Valor with three Oak Leaf clusters.

He has been wounded a total of nine times.

Combat Commands

McCloskey is now assigned to the Combat Developments Command, Ft. Belvoir, Va.

The incidents on which the charges against Donaldson are based took place, the Army said, between November 1968 and January 1969 in Quang Ngai Province, where the My Lai massacre occurred the previous March.

In the 1960s, Donaldson served under the Joint Chiefs of Staff, specializing in military aid matters and strategic plans and policy duties. He also was chief of staff for the 7th Infantry Division in Korea.

After a tour on the Army general staff in a planning post, he served more time under the JCS and then, in October 1968, became commanding officer of the 11th Brigade in Vietnam.

In March 1969, he became chief of staff of the Americal Division and in September 1969 was made assistant division commander.

Promoted in October

Promoted to one-star rank in October that year, Donaldson returned to the Pentagon to serve again under the Joint Chiefs in European plans work.

An athlete, Donaldson was a member of the U.S. pentathlon team in the 1948 Olympics.

Protestant Theologian Reinhold Niebuhr Dies

STOCKBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The Rev. Reinhold Niebuhr, famed Protestant theologian and crusader for social change, who was considered one of the greatest Christian thinkers the United States has produced, is dead at 78.

He died Tuesday night at his summer home after a long illness.

Dr. Niebuhr taught that religious faith is "basically a trust that life, however difficult and strange, has ultimate meaning."

He intertwined his theology with a hard realism and a belief that Christian morality should be manifest in social and political action.

Dr. Niebuhr participated in the conference that led to founding of the World Council of Churches, was among the founders of Americans for Democratic Action, and influenced a whole succession of church leaders by his labors for social betterment.

Political Adviser

He was an adviser to numerous national and international political figures, and was active in politics first as a member of the Socialist party and later as an adviser to the Liberal party in New York.

"The whole art of politics consists in directing rationally the irrationalities of men," he said.

In discussing subjects that ranged from race relations to trade unionism to foreign affairs, he did not attempt to offer neat solutions but stressed "Christian realism."

He defined the concept as a recognition that in the complexities of modern life, clear-cut "right" decisions become ever more difficult, and sometimes impossible, requiring instead that approximate, rather than absolute, answers be obtained by public questions.

Public Morality

Here, he argued, public morality differed from private morality. "Individuals are never as immoral as the social situations in which they are involved and which they symbolize, since collective groups don't have the individual's capacity for self transcendence or sensitivity to needs of others."

Men cannot build a perfect order, he emphasized, but neither can they escape responsibility for striving at its approximation, recognizing them always as only that.

It was said that he brought

Police Tactics, Drug Abuse Concern Nixon

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says any new efforts by antiwar demonstrators to disrupt the government should be met by the same police tactics used here last month.

He told a news conference Tuesday night the thousands of protesters who took part in the May 3-6 "Mayday" protests were "vandals and hoodlums and lawbreakers" whose rights nonetheless were protected.

Topics during the news conference covered a wide range but the questioning about police tactics during the protests was perhaps the most persistent Nixon has faced.

He told the reporters and nationwide television and radio audience the tactics used by Washington police should be a model in any future episodes.

"I approve of what they did, and in the event that we have similar situations in the future, I hope we can handle those situations as well as this was handled. I hope they can be handled that well in other cities so that we do not have to resort to violence."

9,500 Arrested

During the May 3-6 "Mayday" demonstrations Washington police arrested an estimated 9,500 demonstrators, mostly on charges of disorderly conduct. Charges against an estimated 2,400 are to be dropped.

Those who will escape prosecution were among about 7,000 who were arrested May 3—the day that the protesters attempted to block Washington's traffic from nearby Virginia and Maryland. The effort was unsuccessful.

In other areas during the 30-minute session, the President said:

—The administration soon will announce a four-front "national offensive" against drug abuse and narcotics addiction.

—Politics is something he won't talk about at news conferences because, in his view, it is not a proper forum.

—Easing curbs on trade with China will be announced June 10 and a policy regarding a seat in the United Nations for the Peking government will be formulated in about six weeks.

—No foreign travels are planned in the near future but the President will pack his bags if it becomes necessary to promote an East-West troop cutback in Europe or an American-Soviet accord on arms limitations.

The President said the United States will consider negotiating with the Soviet Union on mutual troop reductions in Europe after Washington has consulted with Atlantic Alliance leaders.

—Any agreement with the Soviet Union on limiting offensive weapons might be handled first as an understanding, rather than as a treaty requiring Senate consideration.

But any agreement curtailing antiballistic missiles—defensive weapons—would be a much simpler matter and might be subject to a treaty, Nixon said.

—The administration will issue next week a paper outlining its position on pushing for desegregated public housing. He disagreed with a Civil Rights Commission report questioning whether the nation is committed to equal rights.

"I don't think they should question the sincerity of the great majority of the American people on this issue, particularly in view of the great progress that has been made," the President said.

On the subject of the May 3 effort by demonstrators to tie up the city's traffic and keep government workers from their jobs, Nixon was asked four questions—three in succession.

The questions came as close as many observers could recall to a running confrontation between the President and inquiring reporters.

After fielding one question on the subject earlier, Nixon was asked if he felt the demonstrators posed sufficient threat that "some methods such as suspending constitutional rights was justified."

Nixon said this was an exaggeration and added police showed more concern for rights of the demonstrators than the protesters did for rights of metropolitan residents.

"If they were lawfully and properly arrested," interjected another newsman, "why are the courts letting them out?"

Wiretaps Add Up Big Brother Is Listening

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal and state authorities eavesdropped on 390,681 private conversations involving at least 29,558 individuals through telephone taps and hidden microphones last year, court records disclose.

The conversations monitored in apartments, businesses, pay phones, automobiles, parking lots and streets resulted in 1,912 arrests, the same records show.

The summary of court-approved wiretaps and listening devices is detailed in a 128-page report by the administrative office of the U.S. Courts.

Applications for intercepts doubled last year to 597, compared with 293 in 1969, and none was turned down by state or federal judges, the report said.

Federal authorities were granted permission to place 183 taps or microphones last year to listen to 146,105 conversations involving 10,248 persons. State and local police listened secretly to 244,576 conversations involving 19,310 persons.

The most federal activity was listed in Michigan where agents monitored 22,526 conversations. Next in line were New Jersey, with 22,244 intercepts; Pennsylvania, 21,007; New York, 17,021; and California, 15,676.

Among state and local authorities, New York led the list with 204,057 conversations monitored. New Jersey authorities overheard another 34,161.

No state or county authorities in Pennsylvania, Michigan or California reported placing taps or microphones.

Many of the intercepts resulted in no arrests. In South Carolina, for example, the Department of Justice reported it spent $17,449 to overhear 1,717 phone conversations involving 125 persons but made no arrests.

The department said 1,700 of the conversations were "incriminating," however.

Offenses specified in the surveillance applications included arson, bribery, dangerous drugs, gambling, homicide and extortion.

Hussein Orders Crackdown

AMMAN, Jordan, (AP) — King Hussein charged today that Arab guerrilla leaders are plotting to set up a breakaway Palestinian state in Jordan and vowed to launch a "final crackdown" against them.

Hussein ordered Prime Minister Wasfi Telli to take "bold, decisive and tough action against the handful of professional criminals and conspirators who use the commando movement to disguise their treasonable plots."

"I want no hesitation, tolerance or compromise in handling them," said the king in a letter to Telli, broadcast by Amman radio.

Telli, whom the guerrillas consider their most implacable foe, promised a "quick and sweeping purge" of the guerrilla movement.

"We shall chop off the hands which are reaching out to dismantle Jordan's national unity and integrity," Telli pledged.

Hussein's message was the most unrestrained attack on guerrilla leaders in eight months. He accused them of "plotting to grab power at any cost" and of "selling out to the enemy."

The king's move apparently heralded strong army action against 3,000 guerrillas stationed in hilly terrain near the town of Jerash, 25 miles north of Amman. They represent the only sizable guerrilla presence left in Jordan after last September's civil war and April's guerrilla pullout from Amman.

Shortly before Hussein's message was broadcast, an army spokesman in Amman reported a 65-year-old farmer was killed by guerrilla mortar fire in a clash with the army near Jerash.

It was the latest flareup in four days of renewed hostilities and are being "constantly shelled." Government communiques spoke only of sporadic skirmishes started by the commandos.

Heavy Raids in Cambodia Bombers Hit Snoul Captors

SAIGON (AP) — Hundreds of U.S. bombers and helicopter gunships today attacked troops of three North Vietnamese divisions spread across eastern Cambodia. The heaviest strikes hit the enemy division that captured the Snoul rubber plantation from South Vietnamese forces Monday.

Delayed reports told of more casualties among the South Vietnamese forces who retreated Monday from Snoul, about 90 miles north of Saigon and 10 miles from the border. The Saigon command announced that 74 of its troops were missing in action; earlier field reports said more than 200 troops were killed or wounded as they fought their way out of the plantation town.

A spokesman, Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, said no more ground fighting was reported in the region south of Snoul. He said South Vietnamese forces "are still operating along the border line."

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, commanding the South Vietnamese forces in Cambodia, called for all available U.S. air support to help prevent the North Vietnamese 5th Division from pushing into South Vietnam.

The number of missions flown today was not yet available. But the U.S. Command reported about 250 helicopter gunship missions and about 45 fighter-bomber missions flown in eastern Cambodia Tuesday in support of South Vietnamese forces.

U.S. B52s also were used in Cambodia.

The North Vietnamese-Viet Cong 5th, 7th and 9th Divisions were reported spread along Highway 7 to Kompong Cham and beyond on the western side of the Mekong River. Some troops of the 9th Division were reported to have moved 50 miles to the southwest, to an area 18 miles east of Phnom Penh, he said where they battled hand-to-hand and is doing very well.

85th Birthday Marked By Cardinal McIntyre

LOS ANGELES (AP) — James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, former Roman Catholic archbishop of Los Angeles who was hospitalized May 22 suffering from exhaustion, observed his 85th birthday Tuesday.

Church officials, who said Cardinal McIntyre would be reported to have moved 50 miles to the southwest, to an area 18 miles east of Phnom Penh, he said where they battled hand-to-hand and is doing very well.

Mirror, Shadow Lakes in Renewal Project

WAUPACA — Mirror and Shadow lakes have been selected by the Inland Lake Renewal and Management Demonstration Project for incorporation into its lake renewal demonstration activities, James A. Van Matre, Waupaca County Extension Resource agent, has announced in a written statement.

"This will be a joint venture of the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and the University of Wisconsin Extension funded by the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission. It has as its goal a demonstration of ways to restore and protect two of Waupaca's most valuable community recreational resources and related land resources," Van Matre said.

ject to heavy pressures and are in an advanced state of nutrient enrichment, early studies of water quality show."

Beach Polluted

It also is known that urban runoff into the lakes has polluted the public swimming beach, the release states. A taste- and odor-producing organism is present in Mirror Lake and it has affected the ground water supply. Municipal wells located near the lake periodically encountered quality problems.

"Accelerating eutrophication has led to the demise of a substantial trout fishery in the lakes and to a nuisance aquatic vegetation problem locally," Dan Folz, district fish manager, DNR, said.

"These Waupaca lakes offer the project a wonderful opportunity to undertake lake renewal in an urban environment," Dr.

The City Council gave its approval to the plan Tuesday by unanimously passing a resolution. Aldermen deemed it "The best thing we've heard tonight." Ald. Waldemar Johnson, president of the council, commented, "We welcome the project with open arms."

Stephen Born, project leader, said, "We will study the nature and effects of urban runoff on the Mirror-Shadow lake system. Urban drainage is being recognized increasingly as a potentially important pollutant in cities and this study should provide substantial information about the problem.

"The strong cooperation and interest of city residents will greatly aid the effort," he added. "They need look no further than the city of Marion to see the benefits of local involvement with an action program aimed at restoring and protecting our environment."

Studies Begun

Collection of necessary scientific background information already has begun. Tom Wirth, a member of the Project Work Committee, said studies have begun of water quality.

James Peterson, project water chemist, will work closely

Bubolz Says Talks May be Revived on Merger of Planners

WAUTOMA — Talks on merging Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission and the Fox Valley Council of Government may be revived in the near future, Gordon Bubolz, chairman said Tuesday.

Bubolz told commissioners at the Northeastern's quarterly meeting that he had been in contact with Kaukauna Mayor Gilbert Anderson, COG chairman, about renewed talks.

He also said that Oshkosh and Outagamie Counties persons, including one alderman and a business group from Neenah-Menasha apparently were interested in merger possibilities. Bubolz said he hoped the executive committees of the two planning agencies could get together soon.

Bubolz said this apparent interest led him to think that chances would be improved for a merger. COG voted against a merger earlier this year.

Anderson said he would be glad to meet with Bubolz, but said he did not know what he was suggesting or if he had any new proposals.

More Planning

Charles Hill Sr., secretary of the state Department of Local Affairs and Development, said there is a new thrust at the federal and state level toward greater regional planning funding and program. He also said he expected his department would be giving more attention to planning since its nonplanning responsibilities were being reduced.

Bubolz revealed the renewed merger effort in his opening remarks. He said he hoped to meet with Anderson soon to set up the renewed discussions.

He noted that the mayors of New London and Appleton had given strong endorsement to the continued existence of Northeastern as well as Winnebago County and said that he hoped The Outagamie finance committee might be recommending the merger.

Bubolz said that the commission is open on the details of what the merger should be but

Chilton Accepts Bid On Incinerator Project

CHILTON — Parsons Brothers Construction Co. was awarded the general contract for the construction of an incinerator after the City Council reviewed bids Tuesday night.

The winning bid, including options, was $237,501.

Work is expected to begin within 30 days, and the project is to be completed by late fall.

Public Works Director Walter Muehl was authorized to accept the bid of Weber Drilling Co., Charlesburg for installation of a well pump at the Hobart Park. Low bid was $1,087.

City Atty. William Engler read the sidewalk construction resolution which will be mailed to all property owners needing new sidewalks. A public hearing on the construction of the sidewalks will be held at 8 p.m. June 15 at which time cost estimates will be available. All property owners who have repairs to be made to their sidewalks will be notified by mail and given 20 days to make such repairs.

$54 Per Month

James Toth, proprietor of Toth Nursing Home appeared before the council objecting to payment of his bill for garbage pick-up which amounts to $54 a month for two extra pick-ups.

Toth said that at that rate the pick-ups average out to 3.5 cents per pound for garbage. He also said he pays as much tax as four or five main street business places which also get the benefit of snow removal.

Toth claimed he has driven around the city and found that some homes have as much trash as he does.

Norbert Euclide, alderman second ward said he didn't see why he should feel that he is being infringed upon. Toth said he felt the garbage could be picked up at the same time the truck picks up New Holstein garbage on Thursday and Friday, when it leaves the city. However Kalinka said the truck must be empty for that pickup.

Alderman Donald Parsons, (third ward) said he felt the garbage problem was Toth's. The city attorney was instructed to work out the problem of collecting the garbage bill from Toth's.

Water Mains Given Waupaca Priority

WAUPACA — The City Council agreed Tuesday that the installation of water mains on Center Street has top priority in board of public works projects but set aside any action to purchase pipe until a public hearing can be set to consider the extension of a water main on High Street.

Aldermen considered scheduling the two water main projects and the purchase of materials, as recommended by Ald. Julius Johnson (4th), board of public works chairman but deferred action until the High Street public hearing is held within the next two weeks. This also deferred action on a resolution to borrow the necessary funds.

When Approved

It is the intent of the board of public works to have city crews install the water lines, when the two projects are approved.

A petition was presented by residents living along the Waupaca River, immediate to the Fallgatter dam, to raise the level of the river to cover the existing mud flats, the council agreed to turn the matter over to the public properties committee for study and asked for a report at the June 15 council meeting.

Council approved the purchase of three sections of bleachers for $675, with budgeted money for the Athletic Field.

Ald. Dennis Schultz (4th), speaking for the Park and Recreation Committee, asked for approval to hire a maintenance man for the city parks, swimming beach, skating rinks and shelters. The position will be advertised and the man hired for six months. Council polling resulted in a tie and Mayor Edward Kramer broke the tie with a "yes" vote.

The installation of curb and gutter on Larson Street, between Seventh and Eighth Street, was considered by council following Tuesday's public hearing on the improvement, and the matter was laid over for further study.

The petition from the Industrial Development Corporation requesting that the city consider taking options on land for an Industrial Park east of the city, was referred to the Plan Commission.

"We can not over emphasize the importance of this proposal, which was a number one priority of the Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission in its 20-year Comprehensive Plan," Mayor Kramer pointed out. Ald. Johnson emphasized the importance to the future growth of the city. "Everything is gone, presently we have no land," Johnson said. "We have no place to go and if we are to bring in new industry, land must be made available."

Region Health Planning and Food Program Funds Backed

Funding of two programs for the remainder of the year was endorsed by the Outagamie County Board's policy and finance committee Tuesday.

The committee recommended that $3,500 be taken from the wages and salaries fund for the Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program and that $1,000 be taken from the reserve for contingencies for the county's share of operating the eight-county Lake Winnebago Comprehensive Regional Health planning district.

The nutrition program itself first must be approved by the county board while county participation in the regional health planning program was approved in February, 1970.

The nutrition program, Verne Imhoff, University Extension Services representative, explained, is aimed at improving the homemaking capabilities of welfare recipients and low income families.

Under the program, a nutrition expert would train program aides, drawn from the same welfare and low income ranks, to work on a one-to-one basis with other families in teaching them meal planning and food preparation.

Imhoff said the county would be responsible for 40 per cent of the nutrition expert's salary plus all office expense. All other costs, he said, including the program aids, would be borne by the federal government.

Supv. G. Allen Bubolz, Appleton, asked whether a problem actually existed in Outagamie County. Supv. Henry Breiling, chairman of the sponsoring agriculture committee, answered, "I believe we do have one and it's an expensive one." He said there were a lot of people who didn't know how to prepare food. If the program could keep them off welfare it would pay for itself, he said.

John Shepard, Appleton Memorial Hospital administrator and one of two county representatives at the present time on the regional health planning board, said the board hopes to adopt bylaws on June 10 and, in lieu of a formal operating budget for the rest of the year, is asking that each of the eight counties provide $1,000.

The money, if approved by the board, would temporarily hold pending passage of state legislation clarifying the legality of counties funding that type of organization.

Shepard said that for 1972, Outagamie County would be responsible for 27.89 per cent of the portion of the district budget to be funded locally.

He said they roughly estimate the budget at $30,000 with the federal government paying half. The remainder is paid according to the equalized valuation of the member counties. Winnebago County would pay the largest share, followed by Outagamie County.

Other counties in the district are Waupaca, Calumet, Fond du Lac, Green Lake, Marquette and Waushara.

The governing board will have 41 members with Winnebago County having seven, Outagamie and Fond du Lac, six each; Waupaca and Calumet, five each; and the others four each.

Shepard said 22 of the 41 must be "consumers" and 19 "providers" in terms of health services. Shepard represents providers on the board while the county's other named representatives still must be named from the county, two representing each facet.

In addition, the county board must designate the county health resource committee as the county-based committee to work with the regional group.

Shepard said that for 1972, Outagamie County would be

Low Bidders Listed For Chilton Work

CHILTON — Four Fox Valley firms were low bidders for street construction projects in the city. The bids were opened Tuesday at the council meeting.

The firms are:

- Bloy Construction Co., Appleton, curb and gutter, sidewalk cushion, concrete aprons and excavation of sidewalks, $45,448.
- C. I. Hughes Construction, Appleton, concrete and asphalt resurfacing, $26,883.
- Sommers, Inc., Shiocott, installation of sanitary sewer and water main extensions, $28,148.
- B & B Construction Co., Appleton, construction of intercepter sewer on Water Street, $28,832.

All bids will be tabulated by the city engineers, McMahon Associates, Menasha, with possible awarding of the bids on June 15.

The public property committee tabled action on Masonic Temple purchase negotiations until further study can be made of the industrial commission's inspection of the building.

The commission report outlined several items — that should be taken care of in the building, including upstairs exits, to be repaired and kept clear, prox lights, hand rail on right side of stairway, nonslip treads on stairs, panic hardware on main floor doors and locks that can be opened from the inside. If the upstairs is to be used, toilet facilities must be installed and separate water bubblers to one urinal.

In the basement of the building, the commission requested that the toilet have a four-inch baseboard not of wood, with ceiling, walls and floor to be painted. Also requested were an

There Won't be Music At Fremont Friday

FREMONT — A weekend event that authorities feared might turn into another rock festival has been cancelled, it was learned today.

There was a considerable difference of opinion as to what plans had been made for the musical event that was to have started Friday.

Mrs. Bruce Goody of Fremont said that a dance band had been scheduled at the Fremont Hotel which she and her husband operate, but that was cancelled because her family had other plans.

She said she knew nothing about any large scale musical event that reportedly had been advertised in an underground newspaper. She said that to her knowledge nothing on that order had to be cancelled because nothing had been scheduled.

Ludwig Asks For Jury Trial

Tavern Operator Pleads Innocent to Beer Sales to Minors

The operator of Ludwig's Lanes in Freedom, Joseph Ludwig, 41, route 1, Kaukauna, requested a jury trial Tuesday on 90 counts of selling beer to minors and allowing them to loiter in his tavern.

Ludwig pleaded innocent to the charges brought May 25 on the sworn statements of 90 Freedom area youngsters aged 15 through 17. Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer set trial for 9 a.m. June 30.

Sheriff Calvin Spice and Dist. Atty. James Long interviewed over 120 youths May 24 as part of an investigation after a traffic accident the previous Saturday that claimed the life of Pamela Olesen, 17, route 1, Kaukauna.

Authorities said that statements they obtained after the accident indicated that four occupants in the car, three under 18 had been at Ludwig's prior to the accident that occurred northeast of Freedom on County Trunk E.

Sixty-eight of the charges are for selling beer to minors. The other 22 are for permitting them to loiter.

Ludwig Tuesday requested that his trial be held outside of Outagamie County because "I don't think I can get a fair trial here because of the publicity I've gotten." Schaefer suggested that Ludwig consult a lawyer.

Ludwig, who appeared without an attorney Tuesday, has posted $1,000 bond.

Parks, Recreation Merger Studied

CLINTONVILLE — The City Council Tuesday night heard a recommendation from Ald. Leon Steenbock, chairman of the recreation committee, that this committee and the park commission be combined into one standing committee of the council.

After discussion, the recommendation was referred to the ordinance committee to draw up an ordinance which will be brought back to council for action. The committee also was asked to consider the size of such a standing committee.

Steenbock suggested that, to get more interest and activity in this committee, noncouncil members be paid a flat fee.

The recreation committee feels it and the park commission should be put into one body to implement programs. Steenbock stated. He said that the recreation committee presently is advertising for a recreation director, and the park commission didn't feel that one person could work for the two units.

Full-Time Director

As outlined, the park commission and recreation committee would be the governing body with a full-time director responsible to it. Under the director would be three groups: the swimming pool, the physical grounds section, and the activities section.

The council approved the bid of Clintonville Motors, Inc., of $3,234 for a park commission truck with snow tires and an extra wheel.

After discussion, members approved planning commission recommendations to name two streets in the Industrial Park. The former railroad right of way will be Railroad Street and the other, Spring Street.

The council also accepted the recommendation of the planning commission to extend Auto Street south across the railroad tracks to Second Street, and that application be made for a Public Service Commission hearing.

Planned Development

A preliminary plat of a planned residential development of 70 acres of the former Dan Kitzman farm just south of Clintonville, to be known as "Floral Acres," was turned over to the planning commission for a recommendation. Ed Wanta, Clintonville, and Jim Nolan, Marion, have purchased the land for development.

Ald. Evan Hedtke, planning commission chairman also reported that the commission is working on the subdivision ordinance and will be presented for council action at one of the next two meetings. He asked aldermen to read the proposed ordinance before it comes up for action as he said some parts can be quite controversial.

James Lindow, health officer, reported 22 inspections
